Auto hits pole; 3 others hurt

Three area teen-agers killed as car crashes

Two teen-age girls from Covina and one from La Puente were killed Friday afternoon when the speeding car they were riding in crashed into a light pole at Lark Ellen and Cypress streets.

Killed were Robin Davis, 14, and her sister, Tammy, 16, of 17002 Benbow St., Covina, and their cousin, Lesa Jenkins, 15, of 16240 Montebrook Ave., La Puente.

All three were dead on arrival at Covina Inter-Community Hospital shortly after the 2 p.m. accident.

Authorities said the three girls were riding in the back seat of a car driven by David Mace, 19, of Carlsbad. Mace and two teen-agers in the front seat, Cathy Skahill, 14, and Scott Cristler, 16, both of Covina, were injured and reported to be in good condition at the hospital.

The accident occurred when Mace ran a red light at the intersection at high speed, according to police. He swerved to avoid a collision with another vehicle, but the car went out of control on two wheels and crashed into the light standard.

Witnesses, fearing the car was going to catch on fire, quickly pulled the six youths from the vehicle.

Leader of war dodgers demands pardons for all who fled

Ford's amnesty for 18 'blatant stunt': resister

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford granted full or conditional amnesty Friday to 18 imprisoned Vietnam war resisters but a leader of resisters in Canada called the clemency act a "blatant public relations stunt."

Ford, announcing eight full pardons and 10 conditional clemencies, said:

"These first few decisions do not end the unfinished business of clemency. But the task of formal forgiveness is under way. I hope it marks the beginning of personal forgiveness in the hearts of all Americans troubled by Vietnam and its aftermath."

Jack Colhoun, a 29-year-old deserter from Madison, Wis., said the 20,000 to 25,000 deserters or draft dodgers in Canada would "hang tight" until the administration grants unconditional amnesty.

Ford acted on the first recommendations made to him by a special amnesty board set up after he announced his earned re-entry program for military and civilian opponents of the war on Sept. 16.

"Today's pardons were purely designed to play on the emotions at the start of the Christmas season and try to make people think the program is working," Colhoun said.

"We expect the government will do a lot more of this sort of thing to try to lure resisters home. But we're not going to fall for it.

Colhoun, a member of the steering committee of the American Exiles, said in Toronto the program will " never work until the President grants universal, unconditional amnesty to all resisters and ends U.S. aid to the governments of South Vietnam and Cambodia."

Gerry Condon, 26, managing editor of the exiles' magazine Amex-Canada said "people who resisted the war did so because they knew it was wrong and they were right. They are not prepared to go back from Canada to be punished."

Ford said of the 18 initial cases sent to the clemency board, he had "reviewed each one and personally approved each one."

All 18 of the cases involved civilian draft resisters imprisoned at the time of Ford's Sept. 16 announcement. At that time, 95 civilian resisters imprisoned were furloughed from jail and board chairman Charles Goodell said Friday the 67 remaining individuals would remain free until the board and the President have disposed of their cases.

The clemency, which deals only with civilian or military personnel already convicted of a war-related offense, such as draft resistance or desertion, has a potential case load of 8,700 civilians and something over 100,000 military personnel. To date, according to Goodell, some 770 persons have applied to the clemency board for review of their cases.

COUNTERFEIT BILLS SEIZED

Secret Service agent Robert Powis displays the negatives and part of the more than $3 million in counterfeit $100, $50 and $20 bills seized by agents Friday in the Redlands and Riverside areas of Southern California. A total of five persons were arrested and charged with counterfeiting.

Ford news conference schedule Monday night

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford holds a news conference Monday night, presumably to explain the tentative agreement between the United States and Soviet Union to limit offensive nuclear weapons.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Friday the news conference would begin at 4:30 p.m. PST and be open to live coverage by television and radio networks.

Ford was expected to use the occasion to discuss his recent meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Nessen said that so far the written documentation of the 10-year accord has not been received from Moscow. According to reports from the Soviet capital, Brezhnev has won approval of the agreement in the Politburo, the nation's ruling body.

Both Ford and Brezhnev have kept secret the number of weapons and delivery systems each side has agreed to maintain under the pact. Congressional leaders say each side would be limited to under 2,500 and to 1,300 missiles that could have multiple warheads.

4 persons killed as 2 light planes collide in mid-flight

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. (UPI) — Four persons were killed Friday when two light planes collided in flight above the rolling farm country of western Washington and plummeted to earth in flames.

Witnesses said the two planes appeared to have been "joyriding" and chasing each other prior to the crash.

The Skagit County Coroner's office identified one of the victims as Allen O'Dell, 43, Ferndale, Wash. The names of the other three persons were withheld until notification of their relatives. All were occupants of the planes.

Mark Van Pelt, 10, who lives just west of here, said, "I heard an explosion and I saw this plane—it wasn't too far away—and I thought it would land on the house."

Van Pelt said he found a charred wheel from one plane about 100 yards from his home and found other parts scattered about the area.

He said the plane which hit closest to his home crashed nose-first into the ground.

Hijacker wounds stewardess, but gives up for pilot

SASKATOON, Sask. (UPI) — A would-be hijacker waving a steak knife and demanding to be taken to Cyprus commandeered a Canadian Pacific Airlines jetliner Friday and forced it to land in Saskatoon after slightly wounding a stewardess.

The pilot talked the man out of the hijacking and persuaded him to surrender to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Police identified the man as Maim Djemal, 30, of Winnipeg, Man., a naturalized Canadian from Cyprus. He turned himself over to RCMP officers at Saskatoon and was held for arraignment today on a charge of hijacking.

Stewardess Lene Madsen of Port Coquitlam, B.C., suffered superficial cuts during the attempted hijack. She was treated at hospital and later reboarded the flight.

The Boeing 737 jetliner, Canadian Pacific's Flight 71, was en route from Winnipeg to Edmonton, Alta., with 80 passengers and a crew of six when the man grabbed Miss Madsen and demanded to be flown to Cyprus, officials said.

"The man held the stewardess briefly as a hostage. She received minor injuries—a cut to the forehead, neck and shoulder. He used a steak knife which is provided for meals on the aircraft," said RCMP Staff-Sergeant E. K. Williams.

Williams said the incident occurred in the economy section of the aircraft and flight captain Bob Pitcairn, sensing something was wrong, went back to speak with the man.

U.N. vote to keep watch on Israel, Syria passes 13-0

By United Press International

As new bloodshed was reported on Israel's borders Friday, the United Nations Security Council voted 13-0 to extend its peace-keeping operations on the tense Israeli-Syrian frontier for another six months.

China and Iraq did not participate in the vote by the 15-nation body.

The approval of the extension of the U.N. buffer operation on the Golan Heights from Nov. 30 came after a warning from Secretary General Kurt Waldheim that there is a "distinct possibility" of new conflict in the Middle East next year if there is no progress toward a political settlement.

Waldheim, who returned Thursday night from a Middle East tour, told the Council it was made clear to him that there was "not an indeterminate time" to work ot a peace formula.

"The next six months must be used for a redoubled effort," he said.

Israeli troops patrolling inside Lebanese territory intercepted and killed five Arab guerrillas before they could cross the border and attack Israeli civilian frontier settlements, the Israeli command said.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine said in Beirut five of its guerrillas were killed and a sixth wounded in a fight with an Israeli patrol late Thursday on the Lebanese-Israeli border.

The Marxist group led by George Habash said "numerous" Israelis were injured in the 75-minute rocket, machine gun and hand grenade encounter.

Mitchell claims he approved wiretaps in 1970 drug probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, a defendant in the Watergate cover-up trial, took the stand in another courtroom in the same building Friday to testify as a government witness that he personally authorized wiretaps in a 1970 narcotics investigation.

Mitchell testified in a courtroom at U.S. District Court directly across the hall from Judge John J. Sirica's chamber, where the Watergate cover-up trial was in its 43rd day.

He said he personally wrote his own initials on the 1970 wiretap authorization himself and also personally made the decision to approve the wiretaps requested by narcotics investigators.

Ten defendants in the narcotics case asked U.S. District Judge Judge Joseph C. Waddy to suppress the wiretap evidence on grounds that Mitchell did not initial the authorization himself or that the attorney general had initialed the authorizations "pro forma" on the basis of a subordinate's decision.

Traffic toll reaches 187 on 2nd day of holidays

By United Press International

The traffic death toll mounted slowly but steadily Friday on the second day of the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend. The rate seemed to bear out the National Safety Council's advance estimate that this would be the safest Thanksgiving in six years.

A United Press International count at 10 p.m. EST Friday showed 187 traffic deaths since the start of the holiday period at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday. A breakdown of accidental deaths:

Traffic	187
Fire	11
Plane	8
Other	20
Total	226

California reported 14 traffic fatalities, New York 12, Alabama and North Carolina 10 each, and Florida, Georgia, Indiana and Texas 9 apiece.

The worst single accident of the holiday period so far claimed the lives of eight persons on Thanksgiving Day. They were killed when a car in which they were riding smashed into a highway overpass abutment near Leeds, Ala.

A young mother and her daughter, on their way to the home of the mother's parents for a holiday dinner, were killed Thursday in Scott County, Indiana, when a state police car pursuing a fleeing car plowed into their automobile.

Before the holiday weekend began, the National Safety Council estimated that traffic accidents would claim between 525 and 625 lives and injure up to 32,000 persons.

King 'would have wept' at busing violence: wife

BOSTON (UPI) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. would have wept had he lived to see the violence associated with Boston school desegregation, his widow said Friday.

Mrs. Coretta Scott King, at news conference called by local religious leaders, said she would participate in a rally and march today to show support for a federal order to bus 18,000 students to desegregate the city's schools. The event is called a "March for Quality Integrated Education".

"The issue, in my view is not really busing," she said. "The conduct of certain opponents of busing has made the issue one of racism in it's broadest aspects."

"Can anyone believe that people using or condoning violence as well as vulgar racial epithets are making a democratic protest against busing?" she asked. "No. They are making an undemocratic assault on equality. This is why the attacks on school children and integregation must be opposed by everyone —even those who are not fully committed to busing."

Mrs. King said the school-related violence in Boston is "an isolated throwback to what we had hoped was a forgotten era of infamy and hatred.

"I would hope that in the Christmas season now approaching, some searching of hearts takes place and a new effort can be made —not for victory over anyone, but for victory over past errors and for a future of hope for both black and white people."

Asked how she thought her assassinated husband would have reacted to the violence in Boston, Mrs. King said, "Like Christ when he saw Jeruselum, he (King) wept when he went back to Montgomery. If he came to Boston he would weep too ... because he thought it (racism) didn't exist any more. But it does, and it's here."

Chemical tank explosion sets off 4 other blasts

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI) — A chemical tank at the huge Goodyear Chemical Co. plant in Southeast Texas exploded Friday night, setting off four other blasts which injured at least 10 workers, destroyed half the plant and damaged houses as far as six miles away.

Police feared at least two workers were killed.

Authorities said the explosions occurred in the northeast part of the several hundred acre plant on the outskirts of the city. The first big blast shot hundreds of feet into the air shortly after 8 p.m. It was followed quickly by four others.

Hospital emergency rooms in the area were placed on alert and all available ambulances were called to the scene.

"I was looking toward the plant," said Buddy Woods, who lives six miles to the north. "There were two immediate explosions that rocked my house and damaged the wall in my den. There was wind with it and two more smaller flashes not as violent as the first."

Woods said a fifth blast ripped hundreds of feet into the sky.

A plant spokesman said from 800 to 1,000 workers were in the plant at the time of the explosion and were knocked flat by the blasts. Plant officials kept emergency vehicles from the plant immediately after the blast while they closed chemical outlets that could have caused other blasts.

Food objective of 7.5 million tons reported

ROME (UPI) — Over American objections, the world's major grain importing and exporting nations Friday set a target of 7.5 million tons of emergency food aid until next summer but failed to agree on who will pay for it.

Richard Bell, deputy assistant agriculture secretary, said the United States thought the problem was over-dramatized and would make no new aid commitment.

But despite these reservations, America went along with the agreement that it will take 7.5 million tons to feed the world's hungry until the next harvest.

Addeke H. Boerma, the Dutch director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, said it would cost $1.8 billion to buy the grain and ship it to starving people in Asia and Africa. He said a quarter to a third could come from present aid programs but new financing is needed for the rest.

The turnpike authority has sent two films about the turnpike to the Soviet Union to be studied by Soviet transportation officials.

Ayala gains permission

Use of state land for park approved

State Sen. Ruben S. Ayala said he has received approval for Los Serranos residents to use about five acres of state owned land between Pomona Rincon Road and Bird Farm Road for a community park and vocational training center.

But funding for the development must be provided by area residents, possibly through a special assessment district, he added.

Ayala said he met with E.C. Fullerton, deputy director of the state Department of Fish and Game in obtaining agreement for San Bernardino County to acquire a portion of the state property not being used.

The senator and County Supervisor Robert Townsend met Friday in Chino with residents to begin plans for the park's development.

"The mechanics must now be worked out between the residents and the county Board of Supervisors," said Ayala. "Townsend will meet with them to develop a master plan for presentation to the state."

Ayala said Los Serranos residents want a place where their children can play, work on their cars, or learn various vocational trades.

"They propose to have playground equipment, tennis courts, Little League baseball field, picnic tables and barbecue pits," he added.

Ayala praised state officials in assisting residents in taking the first step to provide their area with a park.

Rescue of 3 on cliff told

Two men and a 9-year-old boy were rescued Friday afternoon by a Los Angeles County Sheriff's rescue team from the side of a cliff near Colbrook in Azusa Canyon.

Sheriff's deputies said that Rolando Romero 33, of La Puente, his son, Orlando, 9, and Daniel Mena, 32, of East Los Angeles, became stranded on the steep hillside while hiking.

The trio was stranded about 75 feet up the cliff side for about one hour. A rescue team was able to lower all three to safety without injury.

Master art sales bring $2,789,800

LONDON (UPI) — A sale of Old Master paintings brought a total of $2,789,800 at Christie's auction house today, a spokesman said.

Highest price among the 102 works by mainly Dutch and Italian painters was paid for a Canaletto view of the Grand Canal in Venice.

Thanksgiving slayer dies 2 years later

On Thanksgiving Eve in 1972 Darrell Lee Graham, 41, allegedly beat and strangled a Costa Mesa woman and dumped her body in Carbon Canyon.

On thanksgiving Eve this week — two years later — Graham hanged himself in a jail cell in Folsom Prison's psychiatric ward.

According to prison Asst. Warden Max Price, Graham was found dangling from his cell with a bandana around his neck Wednesday evening.

While a West Valley Superior Court jury found Graham guilty in the strangulation slaying of Miss Celeta Patricia Contromano, 31, of Costa Mesa, Graham never admitted the killing.

In 1960, Graham had been convicted of beating his 18-month-old daughter, Michelle, to death and burying her tiny body in a shallow grave in the Hollywood Hills on Oct. 24, 1959.

According to prison records, Graham served 11 years of a life sentence for murdering his daughter and was on parole when he was arrested by San Bernardino County sheriff's deputies for the slaying of Miss Contromano in Costa Mesa.

Valley man pleads guilty on gun charge

Edward Charles Brown Jr., 45, of 131 W. Granada Court, Ontario, arrested in connection with the shooting death of his father Oct. 27, has pleaded guilty in West Valley Municipal Court to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon with a prior conviction.

Brown was arrested by Ontario police on suspicion of attempted murder shortly after Edward Charles Brown, Sr., 65, was shot in the stomach with a .45 caliber automatic on Oct. 27.

The elder Brown died a few days later at Ontario Community Hospital, but had told detectives that the shooting was an accident. Mr. Brown told officers that the gun went off as his son was showing it to him.

Police detectives after consulting with the District Attorney's Office after Mr. Brown's death decided to press the charge of attempted murder. But a plea bargain was arranged later with the younger Brown's attorney and the District Attorney's Office.

Brown appeared before Judge Kenneth Ziebarth Wednesday to plead guilty to carrying a concealed weapon with a prior conviction.

Judge Ziebarth ordered Brown to return to the Superior Court on Dec. 18 for a probation hearing and sentencing.

A pipe bomb laid across the motor block.

Pekin police, aided by the Peoria police department bomb squad, disarmed the bomb. They said it was live.

Police were investigating the incident.

The county's current assistant presiding judge, Robert A. Wenke, was elected presiding judge for 1975. He participated in the decisions regarding assignments for the coming year, McCourtney said.

The new assistant presiding judge for the coming year will be William P. Hogoboom, former juvenile court judge.

Snow, freezing rain hit Southwest, Midwest area

By United Press International

Snow or freezing rain fell across a broad belt of the Southwest and Midwest Friday and frigid air speared into the midlands.

Snow plastered much of Oklahoma, eastern Kansas, Nebraska, the eastern Dakotas, Iowa, Missouri and central Illinois but amuonts were generally light.

Two inches of snow had accumulated by early afternoon at Ft. Sill, in southwest Oklahoma, and up to two inches from South Dakota into central Minnesota.

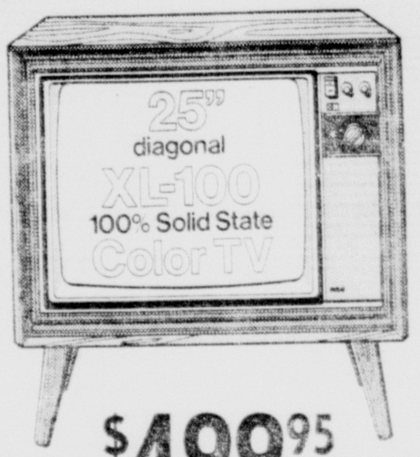

The storm dumped about two inches of snow on most portions of Kansas, but Springfield, Mo., had five inches and Columbia, Mo., reported three inches. At least two traffic deaths in Missouri were blamed on slick roads.

Freezing rain glazed highways in parts of Oklahoma and north central Texas but the freezing rain turned to rain or snow as the storm moved through south Missouri and northern Arkansas.

Travel warnings were posted from eastern Oklahoma into Illinois, with up to four inches of snow forecast by Saturday along the indicated path of the storm. Behind the frontal system, arctic air shoved southward. Freezing temperatures spread as far south as New Mexico's southern border and into west central Texas and even south central Texas was expected to get a freeze Friday night.

Judge orders McVittie to stand trial in vote registration case

Assemblyman-elect William J. McVittie will stand trial on Dec. 23 on a charge he made illegal payments to deputy registrars.

The trial date was set Tuesday in San Bernardino Superior Court where McVittie lost an appeal to have the case reconsidered.

A Municipal Court had ruled earlier that the original complaint needed to show "criminal intent" before the case could go to trial. The original complaint did not show that.

But Judge Vaysey declined the appeal, made by McVittie's attorney, Thomas Hudson.

Hudson indicated that he currently is working on a request for a stay order on the trial pending an appeal to the Fourth District Court of Appeals in San Bernardino. The court earlier was put on notice that McVittie intends to file an appeal. A stay order, if granted, could again postpone the trial.

McVittie was charged with unlawful payment to county registrars after an investigation by the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Office was made on the request of San Bernardino County Registrar of Voters William Clinton. McVittie is alleged to have offered a payment of 40 cents to county deputy registrars for each Democratic voter registered prior to the Nov. 5 elections in the district.

In the Nov. 5 election McVittie defeated Pete Vander Poel of Chino in a bid for a 65th Assembly District seat.

The trial, if held on Dec. 23, will be in the West Valley court.

Chino Hills residents have no choice now

Briggs wants vote on airport issue

Assemblyman John Briggs said he will introduce for a second time legislation that will permit affected residents to decide by an election if an airport should be built in the Chino Hills.

"It is obvious there is a need for this legislation," said the Fullerton legislator. "Presently, the proposed Chino Hills Airport need only be approved by the affected counties' land use commissions, thereby depriving residents of these counties a voice in the matter."

His bill would require the Board of Supervisors in the principal county to hold an election within 90 days after recept of a proposal to construct the airport. The election would include persons who reside within a 7.5-mile radius of the center point of the landing and take-off area.

And the airport could only then be constructed if approved by the voters, he stressed.

Briggs co-authored a similar bill during the past legislative session. The bill made it through the Assembly and Senate before it was vetoed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"On Oct. 1, I voted to override the veto and it passed by the Assembly with a vote of 55 to 9. Unfortunately the Senate adjourned before any action could be taken and therefore the governor's to veto stood," said Briggs.

"It has always been my belief that the people should have a voice in such crucial decisions. My bill, if enacted, will give this choice to residents of the involved counties."

The Chino Hills Airport Complex, Inc., a non-profit group, has proposed building a major jetport to cover 4,000 acres which straddles San Bernardino and Orange counties. Developers plan to build two 12,000 foot runways to handle 100,000 commercial and 20,000 general aviation flights per year.

TOYS FOR TOTS

U.S. Marine Corps Capt. Tom Mitchell and Dairy Princess Julia DeVries look over some of the Toys for Tots collected for Christmas distribution to less fortunate children.

Marine Reserve begins Christmas toy campaign

The U.S. Marine Corps Reserve kicked off its 27th annual Southern California Toys for Tots campaign this week with about 400 collection barrels placed throughout the business community.

Location for toy collection boxes and barrels include all city and county fire stations, Southern California Ford dealers, Shakey's Pizza Parlors, Red Carpet Realtors, selected Der Wienerschnitzel restaurants, Pacific Stereo stores, Coast Federal Saving and Loan Association offices and any Marine Corps Reserve Center.

Los Angeles metropolitan area home—delivery milkmen again will assist the Marines by picking up toys from the homes they serve. Customers may donate new, unwrapped toys and their milkman will transport the toys to collection centers.

Dairies participating include Adohr Milk Farms, Alta-Dena Farms, Carnation Company, Driftwood Dairy, Edgemar Farms, Quaker Maid Dairy, Rockview Dairies, and Shady Grove Dairy.

Toys for Tots provides thousands of toys for less privileged children in the area.

The dolls, games, bikes, trikes, and trucks donated in the drive are all catalogued by age group and sex and then distributed by social workers from both public and private agencies beginning late this month.

Last year, a total of 412,000 toys were collected, with 116 companies and civic organizations as well as thousands of individuals participating.

At Toys for Tots parties, businesses, PTA groups, Chambers of Commerce, or civic and fraternal organizations having Christmas parties have guests bring toys for donation to Toys for Tots instead of the usual exchange of gifts.

The 400 barrels will remain at locations until Dec. 20. The Los Angeles County Department of Social Services will distribute the toys to charities. Charities prefer new, unwrapped toys.

More information on the Toys for Tots campaign may be obtained by phoning M. Sgt. Bob Shampine at 213-628-7902.

School board returns to full strength again

The Pomona school board after 5½ months operating one member short once again is back to full strength..

Mrs. Mary Montes, who received 50.5 per cent of the votes cast in the Nov. 5 special election was seated last Tuesday night.

Members of her campaign committee crowded the Education Center board room and applauded when she was administered the oath of office by Schools Supt. Robert E. Wentz.

Mrs. Montes, 35, was applauded a second time when she expressed appreciation for her election.

She replaces Roy O. Day who resigned from the school board last June 10. She was appointed by a 3-0 vote by the board to fill Day's unexpired term.

However, objecting residents gathered sufficient signatures on petitions to force the special election.

Board members were told that the average daily attendance (ADA) in the district's elementary schools is 11,221; in secondary schools, 8,596 and in adult education classes, 2,849 for a total ADA of 22,666.

The board approved an all-day workshop for 70 pupil personnel staff members Dec. 18 in the Education Center. It will be conducted by Steven Moreno of UC San Diego. His presentation will be concerned with psychological testing, research on tests and measurements and parental involvement in guidance procedures as applied to Spanish surnamed children.

In other actions, the board:

—Approved a District Advisory Committee parental involvement workshop Dec. 7 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Roosevelt Elementary School to be conducted by Charlie Mae Knight of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District.

—Granted C. Joseph Barfield, director of special projects, permission to apply for state funds to establish a demonstration math program at Simons Junior High School next year.

—Granted students at Garey High School permission to participate in a motocross club sponsored jointly by Yamaha International Corp. and Saddleback Park in Orange.

—Approved the transfer of a small area of inhabited territory in the westerly tip of the school district to Walnut Valley Unified School District, and a small area of uninhabited territory in the easterly tip of the Walnut district into the Pomona district. Purpose of the transfer is to place one small housing tract completely within the Walnut district.

—Was informed the cafeteria system served 231,340 meals in October, an average of 10,200 each school day, and now has a bank balance of $15,602.30.

Waiting lists are being compiled for adult beginning and intermediate, and adult intermediate with strategy classes.

China gains impress valley couple back from tour

By MAE TATE
P-B Staff Writer

Lorenz and Ruth Graham returned to their Claremont home this month from a visit to mainland China, more convinced that peace is possible for the world's peoples.

The Grahams, writers for young readers and volunteers in the international peace efforts through the World Friendship Center, were invited to the People's Republic of China as guests of the government for the month-long celebration of the republic's 25th anniversary in October. They were accompanied by Graham's sister, Shirley DuBois, widow of black author and historian W.E.B. Dubois; her son and attorney.

"Because we were connected with the name of W.E.B. DuBois, we were treated with more than courtesy, we were treated with extreme kindness. And because we were foreigners, we were treated with friendliness by the common people and the children," Graham recalled.

"Being foreigners, we were given lots of frank stares and eyeball examinations. It wasn't embarrassing for people to stare so hard or come so close to look, but it was interesting."

The Grahams, travelers whose feet have touched the soil of every country in the world except Cuba and South Africa, left China with positive impressions.

They explored the country's landscapes, the communes, the factories, the schools and universities, the philosophy of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, the history of the traditional and Communist Chinas, the ideas and motivations of the Chinese people today, the economics, the attitudes, the emotions of the new China.

"A final impression of China is that the program is working. The people, young and old, are the hardest workers I have ever seen any place in the world. The people are happy. We've all seen pictures out of China of women hooked to carts, pulling and straining. This is a true picture, but I have to testify that these women are singing and laughing as they strain.

"You wouldn't believe it. When I first saw this, I thought they were laughing at me. But they weren't. They believe in the future of their country; they believe in the teachings of Mao; they believe in the ultimate triumph of their efforts. They are not discouraged and they know it will be a long process."

Graham said not all citizens in the most populous country in the World belong to the Communist Party, but it appears that most "are not unwilling to go along."

"The common people, the masses were in such an abominable state before the revolution. There was this thing of parents selling their girls, hoping that the girls would at least have enough to eat . . . of parents turning away from their starving children and abandoning them," he said.

"There is an element of hope and there is, among the older people, the memory of what it was like beyond 25 years ago, before the days of liberation. There is no hunger in China now, no unemployment. There is still a considerable amount of illteracy because a lot of the adults haven't caught up yet. It might even be said that this may have made it easier for Mao Tse-tung thought to be impressed on the people."

As educators, the pair told their hosts, the Chinese People's Association for Friendship, of their keen interest in the country's schools.

"A very interesting contrast (to our educational system) is that students finishing the public school system which is 10 years in most places, nine in some, are not allowed to go to the university immediately. Also their grades are not the determining factor of whether they go to the university. After they finish the public schooling, they have to go out and get some experience and make a contribution, share in production," Graham said.

Rote teaching and the existence of factories in full production in some schools were other contrasts. The factories, complete with machinery and assembly lines, are put in the schools "in order for young people to learn to work consistently and appreciate the value of work. They must understand that rice doesn't come out of a bag in the store; that rice is produced by the hard work of many people and that it has value and the work has value," the author commented.

Mrs. Graham said that the work ethic is different from the Western view of self-advancement, that work has been transformed by the Chinese into an united effort for national advancement.

"It's difficult for us to get into the concept of not working for self. People are not interested in getting something for themselves. They are interested in serving. This is a whole new way of thinking with us. This is not merely for the good of, quote, "the state," but for the good of everyone, to make a contribution rather than to make a gain. Over and over there is the emphasis of Mao Tse Tung 'serve the people.' It's everywhere," she said.

Although impressed with the people and land of China, the Grahams are glad to be home. They spend hours now shifting through the stacks of mail and requests for lectures and seminars on their China trip. Graham is concentrating on completing his final book in the "South Town" series as his wife sorts and categorizes their notes on China. The two will combine their writing talents for a book outlining impressions of China soon.

Needs every penny

Pension wins suit over 60-cent cut

OAKLAND, Calif (UPI) — Helene Altasserre, 63, says retired persons need every penny they can get, so she took on the government over a 60-cent reduction in her pension check.

She said the fight was a matter of principle.

But C. R. (Ted) Hitchcock, a director of the East Bay Municipal Utilities District, said, "60 cents is peanuts."

Miss Altasserre retired on Aug. 1, 1973, as a district secretary at a monthly pension of $534.40. Three months later the check was reduced by 60 cents and $1.80 was withheld from her check for "overpayment."

She went to Small Claims Court and had the 60 cents restored. But the district appealed the case to Alameda County Superior Court.

District Director A. C. Harrington said the 60 cents would be a continuing drain on the district's funds. And, he said, the Small Claims Court decision could set a dangerous precedent.

But Miss Altasserre called the reduction arbitrary, particularly because it did not occur to anyone else. And, she said, a person living on a fixed income needs to know exactly how much money is coming in each month.

The whole dispute came before Judge Sourgeon Avakian who this week awarded Miss Altasserre $9.60 in damages and $6.40 in court costs and restored the 60 cents to her retirement check.

Uganda princess loses her job, accused of love tryst, spy links

KAMPALA (UPI) — Idi Amin, the mercurial president of Uganda, Thursday abruptly fired six-foot New York model Princess Elizabeth Bagaya as his foreign minister because she allegedly "made love to an unknown Eurpean" in an airport restroom in Paris.

Amin also charged Miss Bagaya, a member of the royal family of Toro, a tribal kingdom now part of Uganda, with consorting with agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and the British Secret Service and with misuse of nearly $20,000 in funds earmarked for the Uganda United Nations delegation.

He said he was particularly annoyed over a Paris airport incident in which, Uganda Radio said, "Miss Bagaya made love to an unknown European in a toilet."

The 31-year-old former model, who favors skin tight dresses and African style hairdos, became Uganda's foreign minister Feb. 19 after 18 months as Uganda's roving ambassador, whose mission was to explain and defend Amin's policies.

Her elevation to high office took her out of the world of miniskirts and fast cars and away from her career as a movie actress and model.

"I shall serve my country as did my ancestors before me," said Miss Bagaya, who has a degree to practice law.

Paris' Orly airport staff said Friday as far as they could recall the incident did not happen.

"Nothing like that ever happens while I'm on duty," said Mrs. Yvonne Beaufort, a toilet attendant at Orly for five years. "Does this man Amin think we are running a brothel here?"

As foreign minister, she visited Canada, West Germany and France last month. At an official Paris luncheon, she breached protocol by calling for independence for two French African territories, the Comores Islands and the Territory of the Afars and Issas.

Amin, announcing her dismissal in a cabinet briefing, said she was a security risk, had spent $19,200 from funds allocated to the Uganda U.N. delegation and had refused to stay with the delegation during a London visit.

Driver pinned in car wreck for 44 hours

NORWICH, Conn. (UPI) — Sherri Charles, 19, of Hartford, Conn., was found delirious and suffering from frostbite and two broken ankles Thursday in a wrecked car where she had been pinned for 44 hours.

She was in satisfactory condition in a hospital Friday.

Two passers-by said Miss Charles was delirious when they found her off Route 149 in rural Colchester, Conn. Her car had plunged down a 100-foot embankment and landed out of sight of the road. The men were driving down an abandoned railroad right of way when they saw the wreck.

Legal abortion voted by French Assembly

PARIS (UPI) — The National Assembly voted Friday to legalize abortion, ending a bitter, three-day debate in predominately Roman Catholic France.

The government-sponsored bill, which still has to go before the Senate, would legalize abortion in France during the first 10 weeks of pregnancy.

A strange alliance of Communists, Socialists and government legislators skirmished with anti-abortion lawmakers over amendments before passing the proposal 284-189 with 17 abstentions.

The French Senate was scheduled to vote on the bill Dec. 13. If approved, the measure would then go back to the asembly for final passage.

Robert Ballanger, leader of the assembly's Communist bloc, said the vote was a victory made possible by leftists who swung their support behind President Valery Giscard d'Estaing's proposed reform.

The current law, passed in 1920, allows abortion only to save the life of the mother. The law is no longer enforced and an estimated 300,000 to 400,000 illegal abortions are performed in France annually.

Referring to the last time the assembly debated the abortion issue, Gaullist Deputy Bernard Pons said, "Since then, 349 days have gone by, 349,000 clandestine abortions have been done, 349 women have died."

At one point in the debate, Reformist Movement deputy Jean-Marie Daillet shouted to the author of the bill, Health Minister Simone Veil, "Do you want to send our children to the cremation furnaces?"

Honor day students visit zoo, theater

By PETE MARTINEZ
Bonita Reporter

The Bonita High School CSF Club held its annual honor day Wednesday. It is allowed two honor days a year, one each semester.

Students who participated in the all-day affair visited the Los Angeles Zoo in the morning and went to the Hollywood Pacific Theater to see "Odessa File" in the afternoon.

The 50 students who participated were sophomores, juniors and seniors.

In January, CSF students will hold a Disneyland CSF Night. Each student will be allowed to invite one friend.

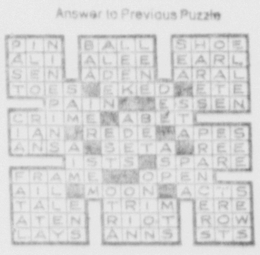

Bonita had its first assembly of the year last week. It was titled "Listen to Music."

Bonita students presented a short version of the rock opera "Tommy." They listened to music by the Beatles, the Pointer Sisters, Santana and other rock groups.

Why we can't move closer, stay open seven days, or serve coffee

What are we doing wrong?

What could we be doing better?

To find out what customers think of us, we ask them.

The customers we ask are the ones most likely to have a complaint: those who bring tire problems back for adjustment.

Our president, Don Carr, sends a three-part letter to every customer for whom we have made an adjustment.

1. Were you treated fairly?
2. Were you treated courteously?
3. Have you any comments or suggestions?

More than 70% reply. You see, we enclose a stamped return envelope. If we have any problems, the owners want to know about them.

You'd think customers with tire problems would be hard to please. Not at 4day. Perhaps three or four a month think they might have been treated more generously, or more courteously. How many other businessmen can say that?

When we do receive a complaint, that customer receives a letter or phone call from one of our owners. Our biggest boosters probably are those for whom we've straightened out a problem or a misunderstanding.

Most of those who offer suggestions want us to open a store closer to where they live.

That we must do slowly. Our stores require considerably more management and effort than most. And because we're price cutters our profits are modest. In 1975 we expect to open new stores in the San Fernando Valley north west of Los Angeles, the San Francisco Bay Area, and perhaps in Ft Worth.

Many urge us to stay open during the three days we're closed. If we tried to do that, our ratio of overhead to sales would advance sharply, we'd lose our operating efficiency, and couldn't cut our prices as much.

The third most common suggestion is, "Why don't you serve coffee?"

Our men keep pretty busy taking care of customers.

Coffee experts they are not. Keeping an eye on a coffee dispenser and cleaning up after customers would interrupt our tire service.

Mounting tires is not compatible with restaurant management.

Hands get dirty from road surface grime on the tires. Asking men with soiled hands to wash up every twelve minutes to keep the coffee stand and waiting areas clean just doesn't work. We know from experience.

Our customers are easy to please. Maybe it's our cut prices. Maybe it's our attentive service. We have surprisingly few complaints, particularly since we go out of our way to ask for them.

If you ever do have a complaint, call one of our owners collect. Or if you have a suggestion, drop our owners a line.

The address and phone number of the main office are down there in the lower right corner of this advertisement.

Where was our whoopee for Toyo?

You may not even have noticed.

With our customary lack of fanfare, we recently added Toyo Steel Cabled Radial Tires, meticulously manufacturered in Japan, to our product lines.

As an independent (totally independent) tire dealer, we're able to cherry pick all the tire lines. We buy only where we can get the most tire for the money. Our money and your money.

Most of the larger dealers can't do that. They're obligated to this brand or that brand. To add a second brand or, rarely, a third brand, they need permission from the major brand to whom they're obligated.

The Toyo Steel Cabled Radial is an exceptionally fine tire and, the proof of the pudding, we invite you to compare prices anywhere, value for value.

Toyo loves the American market

Mr Takami, who heads Toyo's technical development group, noted that Americans place a smooth, comfortable ride at the top of their tire requirements.

To achieve such a ride, Toyo has taken several new and very progressive steps in their manufacturing processes.

Forgive the technical language. We'll save a lengthier explanation for later when we have more space for it.

1. Their new equipment achieves more critical control of the end count of ply cord and belt;
2. They exercise more rigid control of butt joint of steel belts and casing plies;
3. An all new computerized shaping system has been included in the curing process;
4. New molds have been constructed with substantially less tolerance in dimensions than formerly.

Perhaps the most unusual new development is what they call their DynaProved production.

Every Toyo Tire we carry has been dynamically tested as it comes off the line to comply with 33% lower tolerance than is normally allowed.

The maximum amount of radial force variation and lateral force variation have been tightened to 80% and 60%, respectively, of their previous tolerances.

Well, the words are rough but the tires are smooth.

And our customers are buying a lot of them.

Bomb blasts injure 50

BELFAST (UPI) — Bomb blasts demolished bars in two predominantly Roman Catholic border towns late Friday, injuring more than 50 persons, four of them seriously.

One explosion shattered Hughes Bar in downtown Newry, 45 miles south of Belfast, jammed with a payday crowd. Police said the bomb had been left at the foot of a staircase leading to living quarters and toppled a wall.

Fifty-two persons were treated for injuries, mostly cuts from broken glass. A 20-year-old man and an unidentified woman suffered serious injuries.

LUXURY PRISON — The new Federal jail, which hopes to open for business Monday, is a modernistic 22 story building, built at a cost of roughly $12 million. The prototype jail will be able to house some 500 prisoners, both men and women, separately, in what seem to be the most luxurious cells ever built. In the top picture, the prison offers its inmates a fine, bar-less view of San Diego bay. This view is looking toward 11th Naval District Headquarters.

19th century man

Living in the past his way of life

TIVOLI, N.Y. (UPI) — If you tell Laurence G. Broadmoore he's living in the past, he'll take it as a compliment.

Broadmoore, from his hair parted carefully in the middle down to his spats, is a 23-year-old version ofthe 19th century man.

"To me, the word 'modern' is a synonym for cheap, low quality, boring, homogeneous, humdrum —everything but that which kindles the fire of the human spirit," says the proprietor of the Tivoli Player Piano Shop.

The black ribbon on his pince-nez brushes against his upturned starched collar as he nods in discouragement over the degeneration of tne modern world.

The studious, slim young son of a Cincinnati businessman has slipped into the pages of a Victorian novel because, he says, the 19th century was the last period in which pride in craftmanship, beauty and intellectual honesty were valued.

To pursue those values, he has forsaken radio, television, garbage disposals and safety razors. He chooses to live instead amidst the quiet pleasures of a Henry James novel, a recording of Irish tenor John McCormack on his hand-wound Victrola or the satisfaction of restoring a century-old player piano to factory condition.

If a visitor enters Broadmoore's musty frame shop in this ancient Hudson Valley hamlet halfway between New York and Albany, the owner rises from his cluttered rolltop desk, greets him politely and ushers him to a glowing stove with "Brilliant Sunshine" emblazoned on its elaborate nickel grillwork.

"Anything new that tries to come through the door, I just say no," Broadmoore says, gesturing at the 60-year-old air compressor, handmade wooden piano pieces scattered about the dark workroom and the coal piled in a corner.

"There really is very little that doesn't have a better counterpart in the 19th century. I never cease to discover ways in which things have been cheapened. It's like a New Frontier of cheapness."

He says his friends fill him in occasionally on such developments as Watergate, but, "I don't keep up with those things. I go on the assumption that just about everything's corrupt, so what's the point?"

Broadmoore says the townsfolk in Tivoli accept him, "because I've established myself and I have a plan and I've shown I'm not insane at random. If anything, I'm just eccentric."

He charges about $1,500 per piano, taking about a month for each rebuilding job.

"To do anything less than rebuild it would be dishonest, because after a certain number of years there is more wrong with a player piano than there is right." His work is guaranteed for 10 years and he says his pianos shouldn't need adjustment for 25.

Broadmoore lives three miles away in a six-room house without indoor plumbing, heated by two pot-bellied stoves.

However, he makes a few concessions to the 20th century. He owns a truck from 1940s to deliver pianos, sometimes a trip of 200 miles, and to pick up ice for his ice box.

He also uses an electric refrigerator to keep the ice blocks from melting in warm weather.

"It doesn't work, though. I'm going to see if covering it with canvas and straw would keep it as well."

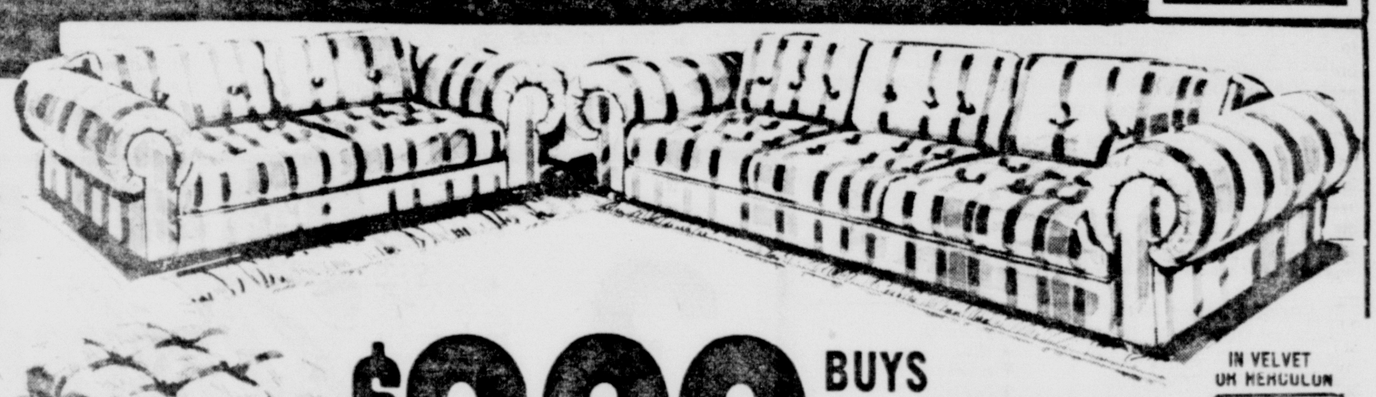

Besides, he says, "The humming bothers me."

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's not likely you'll make the most of opportunities presented to you now. You'll fail to appreciate their values.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're apt to start several things today and not properly follow through. This will leave your affairs in a muddled state.

Economists claim central banks won't allow another depression

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many economists say there never will be another Great Depression because central government banks of the world won't allow it to happen.

Some, in fact, blame the Depression of the 1930s on the failure of central banks to put the brakes on the economy when it was running wild and then holding on too tightly to money when the crunch came.

"When a gust of panic snuffed off a stampede of withdrawals from U.S. banks, the Federal Reserve clung to its tight money policy, letting hundreds of banks go to the wall," said Leif Olsen, chief economist for the First National City Bank of New York.

"No central bank today would —or politically could —repeat the Fed's dismal 1928-32 performance."

In the current crisis, the Federal Reserve, which in effect handles the government's checking account, has been the first line of defense against economic collapse. When other government measures failed to check inflation, the Fed put a tight clamp on money supplies to reduce corporate and consumer spending.

Although the unanticipated quadrupling of oil prices and skyrocketing food prices stifled new fuel to inflation, other sectors of the economy slowed to a walk.

As recession moved in, the Fed relaxed its tight monetary policy and poured billions into the economy to stimulate business. Now it waits a thin line trying to minimize the recession without pumping up inflation.

The Federal Reserve also demonstrated that it would not stand idly by in the face of bank failures. It kept the Franklin National Bank of New York afloat for months and then found a buyer when Franklin finally collapsed in the nation's worst bank failure.

The World Bank, other development banks and the International Monetary Fund also can be effective against economic troubles.

The IMF is the only institution of its kind. It was created at the Bretton Woods, N.H., conference of allied nations in the waning months of World War II. The conference was called to formulate a postwar monetary policy.

The IMF, which became part of the United Nations, was designed to stabilize exchange rates and assist member nations with trade imbalances by allowing them to withdraw some of their own deposits. Nations with large surpluses would be required to increase their deposits. The purpose was to stabilize world currencies.

The U.S. dollar became the benchmark for all other currencies. The IMF established a fixed par value of $35 an ounce for gold. Other currencies could be pegged either to gold or to the dollar and could fluctuate up or down while the dollar remained constant.

Inflation and the fact nations were able to skirt IMF requirements resulted in excessive overvaluation of the dollar and undervaluation of other currencies. Without consultation with the IMF, former President Richard Nixon in 1971 cut the U.S. dollar's ties to gold, devalued the dollar and forced other nations to revalue their currencies upward.

Ultimately the dollar and other currencies were allowed to seek their own levels in world money markets.

Perhaps the most important function of the IMF is to negotiate the ebb and flow of funds in an international monetary crisis. When the oil producing countries raised prices, the IMF rushed to borrow money, mostly from the producing countries, to lend to consuming nations. The IMF was able to negotiate the monetary crises more quickly than could consumer and producer countries by themselves.

The World Bank has many imitators, such as the Asian Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, African Development Bank, Caribbean Development Bank. Then there are a proliferation of United Nations agencies. Other international groupings have their own subsidiary agencies.

The World Bank and others like it are at the mercy of economic developments, like any home town bank. But because they are "development" banks, their operations are akin to issuing loans to unemployed persons. In the case of inflation, the demand for help went up at a time when resources, supplied by wealthier countries, got scarce.

The IMF and the World Bank seek to encourage sound fiscal policies to the extent they can can influence sovereign governments.

For example, as prices go up our countries have an increasingly hard time feeding their people. The development banks tend to focus less on building highways and telephone networks and more on financing imports of fertilizer, encouraging land reform, providing tractors, and other things that will improve food supplies.

Russ reject China offer on border negotiations

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has rejected an offer from China to negotiate border disputes.

Communist party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev said the Peking offer demanded prior withdrawal of Soviet troops and this was "absolutely unacceptable and we reject it."

A telegram from the Supreme Soviet to the Chinese leaders said: "The presentation of all kinds of preliminary conditions is a negation of the former position of the leadership of the Peoples Republic of China and, of course, does not furnish foundations for an understanding."

The telegram was in reply to a message of congratulations to Peking marking the 57th anniversary Nov. 7 of the Bolshevik revolution.

"Thanks for the congratulations on the occasion of the 57th anniversary of the great October Socialist revolution," the telegram began.

It then said the Soviet Union supported normalization of relations with China and had often proposed talks without preconditions.

Bridge

Extra chance turns tide

By Oswald & James Jacoby

When we write about Hard Luck Joe, we're writing about those fairly good bridge players. These players bid pretty well, they play their cards pretty well but they don't give themselves every possible chance.

South ran off five rounds of clubs and attacked the suits. When the suit failed to break, he let a diamond thwart his ring. West produced the ace and South explained about his bad luck. Clubs had failed to break and the ace of diamonds was lost by the wrong defender.

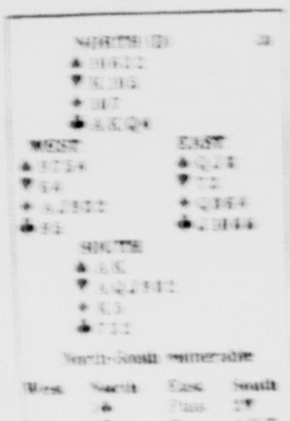

That was bad luck. South's chance to make his contract by one of those two suit breaking better than they had any right to. But South had overlooked a small extra chance that would have brought home his slam without giving up either of the other possibilities.

After drawing trumps South must have cashed his ace and king of spades, entered dummy with a club and set a third spade. Each jack of spades would have dropped under the king; his queen of spades would have been ruffed and dummy's 10 of spades would have been established to allow South one diamond discard.

Just the little extra chance that means the difference between rags and riches.

Pomona bumped from CIF playoffs

By KEVIN CLOSE
P-B Staff Writer

COLTON — For a while there, it looked as though Pomona High was going to make a game of it.

Unfortunately, a second half had to be played, and that's when the roof fell in.

The Red Devils had Colton High tins nilmeast with amazement in the first half, but the 3-4-3's second-ranked Yellowjackets exploded in the last two periods to record a 34-6 win Friday night in the second round of the CIF football playoffs.

The loss bumps Pomona, the San Gabriel League champion with a 5-5-1 season record, from the playoffs.

Pomona was a heavy underdog going into the game, facing a team which had averaged 45.2 points per game this year. But the Red Devils didn't play that way for the first 24 minutes.

Colton, with its offense sputtering against the determined Pomona defense, could only get two touchdowns on the board in the first half, and both of those were under unusual circumstances.

Then in its haste to catch up, Pomona found itself out of the ball game when the Yellowjackets came up with two quick scores in the third period—one after a Red Devil turnover.

From then on it was all Colton, with everybody in the stadium wondering how many more times the Yellowjackets were going to light up the scoreboard.

One of the highlights of the night came with 10:29 remaining in the game when Colton tailback Ted Smith, the state's leading rusher, went over the 1,000-yard mark for the season in rushing on a 36-yard touchdown run. All he needed was four yards to go over the magic number.

Going into the game Smith needed 102 yards rushing, and he concluded the evening with 162 yards on 20 carries and four touchdowns.

Yellowjacket fullback Tony Olivarria also had an incredible night on the ground, picking up 146 yards on 30 carries and one touchdown.

It didn't look like those two guys were going to do much damage against Pomona in the first half. Smith had 75 yards rushing and Olivarria had 66 at the intermission.

Colton opened the scoring with five minutes gone in the game when Smith capped a 66-yard drive in seven plays with a 17-yard run. The big play of the drive came on the Pomona 17, where it looked as though the Red Devils had stopped the Packers first drive.

On a fourth-and-seven situation, Colton quarterback Steve DeuBosa hit his end Tim Smith on a 10-yard pass play for the first down. On the next play, Ted Smith went over.

It looked like Jim Middleton saved Pomona from another Colton TD when he pulled down Olivarria at the Pomona 30 after the fullback gained 53 yards. With the aid of a major penalty and a quarterback sack, Pomona was able to halt the Packers' drive at the 44.

Pomona took over at its own eight-yard line, but four plays and two yards later the Devils were forced to punt.

Red Devil punter Dave Zibell dropped back in punt formation, but after taking the snap from center he started to run around the right end. The Colton defense dragged him down at the 31, where the unbeaten Yellowjackets took it in on the first play—an 11-yard run by Smith.

Quarterback John Souza went to the air to get the Red Devils going, and was successful in getting them down to the Colton 14. However, the SAL champs failed to get on the scoreboard when Dave Zibell's 32-yard field goal attempt went wide following a bad snap.

Coming out in the second half, Pomona recovered a Colton fumble but failed to move the ball. Colton then took possession and scored with 9:57 showing on the clock on a five-yard run by Smith.

On Pomona's first play from scrimmage following the TD, Souza was intercepted, and Olivarria scored from 24 yards out on the next play.

Pomona finally lit up its end of the scoreboard when Jim Navarro intercepted the Colton secondary for an 80-yard TD punt. The two-point conversion try failed.

Pomona threatened to score a few other times, once in the first half when it ran the ball at the Colton 15 and turned it over on a pass interception, once early in the fourth period when it ran down to the Yellowjacket 19 and ran out of downs, and again late in the game when a drive stalled at the Colton five.

Fullback Hank Zibell was the workhorse on the ground for the Red Devils, picking up 59 yards on 13 carries. But Navarro led in the rushing department with 69 yards on 12 carries. Halfback Raymond Butler, who had 140 yards rushing in last week's win over San Gabriel, didn't suit up for the game.

BIG GAIN ON A BIG NIGHT

Colton High's Ted Smith, who went over the 1,000-yard mark in rushing this year against Pomona Friday night, finds some running room as Pomona's Jim Middleton (89) pursues. Colton won, 34-6.

Bonita climbs up the ladder

By CRAIG TRAVIS

NORWALK — [illegible] night of first for Bonita High as the Bearcats unleashed their greatest offensive attack of the year.

Coach Pete Lopez' Sixteenth League champions overcame a two-touchdown deficit midway through the fourth quarter to score a thrilling come-from-behind 31-28 victory over Mayfair High here at Cerritos College Friday night.

With the second-round triumph, Bonita (10-0) advances to the CIF 2-A quarterfinals against another Sunset League opponent, Neff, a 35-6 winner over Lawndale.

It marked the first time a Lopez-coached Bonita team has made it to the third round and it was the first time this season the Bearcat offense has looked awesome — especially through the air.

On a night when the defense wasn't so great (after a "three"), allowing 28 points, quarterback Harold Drake was great as were receivers Dave Drury and Larry Franco.

Drake passed for 238 yards and a score while completing 9 of 16. He rushed for 106 yards while directing the Bonita Veer-T. Drury nabbed three aerials for 67 yards, one a diving catch good for 25 yards. Franco snagged four passes for 127 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown.

The Bearcats rallied midway through the fourth quarter after Greg Mayhan's one-yard TD run had given Mayfair a 28-14 lead.

On a drive that began at its 20, Bonita marched 66 yards in eight plays, scoring on the 52-yard hookup from Drake to Franco.

Franco had beaten the defenders easily on the play but the pass looked short. Franco came back and caught the ball at the Mayfair seven, despite being held by the defender. He broke two tackles and dived into the end zone.

Brad Finch, who was held to 76 yards on 12 rushes, caught the two-point PAT pass from Drake to tie the game.

Then in its haste to catch up, Bonita found itself out of the ball game when the Bearcats [illegible] the ball at their own 20 with 6:48 left in the game.

Bonita controlled their winning drive with 3:22 remaining in the contest.

On third-and-one from the 47, Drake [illegible] yards on his team's fifth first down of the game. Two plays later, Finch netted 11 yards and moments later pulled it over for a first down at the Mayfair five-yard line.

Drake then followed the blocking of center Bill Forbes and tackle Russ Thompson to score from the one. Leticia Nava's kick for the PAT gave Bonita the margin of victory, 31-28, with 2:18 remaining.

Finch gave Bonita an early lead with a two-yard plunge with 2:47 left in the first period. Drake ran in two and gave the "Cats a 14-0 lead.

The Mustangs tied the score early in the second quarter as McSparran gifted 79 yards and fullback Ron Johnson 140 yards on 19 runs for the evening, scored from the two moments later.

Mayhan began the third period with an 18-yard scoring drive with Joe Romero finding paydirt on a 13-yard quarterback sneak.

Bonita fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Mustangs took advantage by scoring 32 yards and six plays later as Johnson caught a seven-yard TD pass from Roberts. Johnson's third extra-point kick gave the hosts a 22-20 lead with 8:07 left in the third quarter.

The Bearcats bounced back as Drake scored on a three-yard run. Hill's run for two points brought Bonita within six points.

Romans advance

By MIKE BRESSARET
P-B Correspondent

The Royal Oak football team had an 8-1 record this year. But the Romans had plenty to be thankful for Friday night as they rallied over the visiting Yucaipa Thunderbirds, 25-6, in their second round CIF playoff game at Charter Oak High School.

After upsetting third-ranked University High 26-6 in the first round of playoff competition last week, Yucaipa could not unravel the Roman defense. The powerful Royal Oak defensive squad held the Thunderbirds to just 118 total yards and seven first downs. Royal Oak also forced six Thunderbird turnovers, including two pass interceptions each by the Roman cornerbacks, Larry Young and Mike Gibbons. Gibbons rolled up 41 yards on his two interception returns, including a 36-yard touchdown with two seconds left in the game.

The offensive speed of the Romans was too much for the harried Yucaipa defense, as Royal Oak's backfield gained 364 yards rushing. Junior Chris Trimble raced for 130 yards in just nine carries, eight of which came in the first half. Trimble scored two touchdowns.

Rick Hall gained 91 yards in 17 carries, and fullback Vince Gibbons carried the ball 14 times for 88 yards. Royal Oak amassed a team average of 6.6 yards per running play. In addition, quarterback Jim Garcia completed four of nine passes for 58 yards to up the Romans' total offensive yardage to 402 yards.

Drollinger scores 21 points as UCLA defeats Wichita St.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ramo Drollinger, taking over for graduated superstar Bill Walton, scored 21 points Friday night as UCLA opened an 85-74 season opening basketball victory over Wichita State.

The 7-0 Drollinger hit 9 of 13 shots from the floor and had 17 rebounds. The Bruins 6-11 sophomore guard Jim Spillane added 16 points.

Robert Gray, a brother of the Seattle Supersonics' Leonard Gray, had 18 points to pace the Shockers. Calvin Bruins added 15.

Coach John Wooden, starting his 27th year at UCLA, used his bench sparingly in the first half and provided only one surprise by starting Spillane ahead of 6-11 junior Andre McCarter.

Pete Trgovich and Richard Washington each had 14 for UCLA, ranked second in defending national champion South Carolina State in the preseason ratings.

The victory was UCLA's 48th straight at Pauley Pavilion, where the Bruins are 124-2 since it was dedicated in 1965.

Arlington scalps Raiders

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

RIVERSIDE — Rowland High hopes to play a couple of games in December, but its season ended abruptly Friday night as the Raiders were eliminated in the second round of CIF 2A action by host Arlington 23-16.

The game, played at Patterson Field Stadium, was supposed to be a battle of the Lions' running attack against the passing of Rowland's Flavio Garcia.

But when the final statistics showed that Arlington quarterback Gaby Miller completed more passes than the Raider opponent, it's easy to understand how Arlington rolled up the commanding win.

Garcia is like the boy in the old nursery rhyme, when he's good, he's very, very good. But when he's bad, ... well. And it was not a good night at all for the big senior as he completed just six of 17 attempts for 88 yards with two intercepted. And all but 13 of the yards came in the fourth quarter after the Lions had opened up a commanding lead.

The loss was more than just Garcia's fault, however, as the entire Raider offense was unable to sustain an offensive drive of any sort. Rowland had its share of the breaks throughout the contest as the Raider defense recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass. On the other hand, the Raiders were just as generous in turning the ball over four times, twice each on fumbles and interceptions.

Rowland has its large share of fans on their feet early when Rich Fisher returned the opening kickoff 46 yards to the Arlington 47 yard line. But the Lions, champs of the Sun Antonio League, showed the Raiders back five early in the next three plays and Gary Rowe threw long to settle for Byron Smith's 28 yard field goal.

Both teams moved the ball well at times in the opening period with neither team halting each drive. The Lions put together a 76 yard drive with Miller finding Don Brewster standing tall in the end zone on a six yard scoring pass to complete the 12 play series.

Rowland appeared to grab the lead much minutes later as Bob Alhanna intercepted a pass and returned it 28 yards for an apparent touchdown, but the defensive back Jim Pearce was ruled for clipping at the 31.

Neither team was able to put any points on the board from that point until the fourth quarter when the Lions put the game away. On its first series of the final quarter, Arlington marched 57 yards in just seven plays with Dave Johnson breaking three tackles en route to a seven yard score.

Rowland's last gasp came when Garcia hit Mike Franklin with a desperation 22 yard strike. The ball was tipped by two Arlington defenders but the little Raider receiver had great concentration to catch the ball. The two point conversion failed and the Raiders were quiet after that as Garcia was [illegible] trying to scramble upfield a Lion defense that sacked him three times for 38 yards.

Dieter Quesada was the offensive star for the winners as he carried the ball 27 times for 167 yards and totaled all three extra points. Arlington had 303 total yards while Rowland had only 162.

As Rowe's said afterwards, "It's too bad the kids had to go out like this. We're a much better team than we showed tonight."

USC varsity wins; Porter stars for JVs

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — Junior forward Bob Trowbridge scored a career high 29 points Friday night to lead USC to an 108-67 win over Louisiana State in the Trojans basketball opener at the Sports Arena.

Trowbridge, who made 10 of his 14 shots in the first half for 20 points, was the hero offensively, but was praised mostly for his defense by Trojan coach Bob Boyd.

"I thought Bobby was very influential in the game but mainly because of the defensive job he did on Glenn Hansen," he said.

Hansen, LSU's top scorer last year, had 14 points, but 12 of them were in the second half after USC had built a big lead.

John Lambert, the other Trojan starting forward, tallied 26 points to give the two forwards a total of 55. Lambert also grabbed 16 rebounds to lead in that department with teammate Greg White adding 13 for the Trojans.

Center Bill LeBlanc led the Tigers with 22 points followed by Kenny Higgs and Mike Dunnell with 19 apiece.

LSU took the early lead with an 18-12 advantage in the first six minutes, but the Trojans came back with 10 straight points to grab a permanent lead.

After taking a 49-38 halftime lead, the Trojans built their lead to 20 points at 86-70 before LSU was able to cut the final margin.

Chris Porter, last year's Valley Player of the Year at Gardena High, made his Trojan debut in scoring 30 points and a game-leading six rebounds for the USC JV's in an 83-72 loss to Biarritz College in the preliminary before hauling out.

The Trojans played without Earl Evans, the talented freshman from Texas, who missed the game because of the flu.

Florida stuns the Southmen

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Lamar Palmer recovered a fumbled punt and Richard James scored with 0:33 to play Friday night to give the Florida Blazers an 18-15 victory over Memphis and a berth in the World Football League title game against Birmingham.

The Southmen scored two first quarter touchdowns and appeared on their way to victory when their defensive unit sacked Florida quarterback Buddy Pritzos with 3:06 to play.

But David Thomas dropped Dave Dave Strock's punt and Palmer recovered at the Memphis 23-yard line. Four plays later, James scored on a four-yard sweep.

With time running out, Jim Etter tried a 48-yard field goal that would have tied the game but Florida's Louis Ross blocked it.

The Blazers scored in the third quarter on a 25-yard field goal by Strock and on a 23-yard run by Tommy Reamon, who gained 122 yards of 29 carries. Florida will meet the Americans in Birmingham Thursday night for the championship of the new league.

Only 4,882 fans showed up in a cold, driving rain for the game.

Memphis, which finished the regular season 17-3, has its first home game.

USC takes on Irish today

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — There is always excitement in the air when USC and Notre Dame meet on the football field.

The same is true again today when the gridiron giants meet for the 48th time in college football's most colorful intersectional rivalry.

Even though nothing but prestige is on the line today, the 2:05 p.m. kickoff in the Coliseum should attract 80,000 customers plus a huge national television audience. KABC (Channel 7) will carry it locally.

Both teams are heading for bowl games.

Notre Dame (9-2) will be playing in the Orange Bowl in a rematch against Alabama, while USC (8-2-1) earned their seventh trip to the Rose Bowl in nine years by whipping UCLA, 34-6, last week.

The Irish still hold a big edge over the Trojans in the series at 28-18-1 but USC has a 4-0-2 mark over the last seven years.

Notre Dame won last year, 23-16, in South Bend when fullback Eric Penick rushed for 128 yards on 32 carries including an 85-yard touchdown run. It was probably the key win for the Irish during their national championship season.

USC, which enters the game as a four-point favorite, has not lost in the Coliseum in its last 19 games in a string dating back to 1972, the last time they won in Los Angeles since the 11-6 romp in 1966.

Coach John McKay's Trojans have played their best football of the season the past three weeks in easily defeating Stanford, Washington and UCLA.

"I believe this Rose Bowl squad is better than my last one," McKay said. "We're a better defensive team than we were at this time last year. Our offensive team is also blocking much better than it was last year and our fullback situation is much stronger."

Of course, USC's top threat is Heisman Trophy candidate Anthony Davis, the Pacific-Eight Conference's all-time rusher with 2,888 career yards.

Notre Dame remembers Davis well.

Two years ago, Davis made the headlines throughout the nation when he scored six touchdowns in USC's 45-23 victory. He returned three kickoffs for 128 yards.

Today's game will also be the final one in the Coliseum for Trojan quarterback Pat Haden and his favorite receiver, John McKay. There was some talk Haden might sit out today's game because of a bruised knee but he figures to start.

Senior fullback Allen Carter of Bonita High will also be saying goodbye to the Coliseum. Junior offensive guard Joe Davis of Claremont High will be starting.

Notre Dame has gone through a rough season with injuries and other manpower problems but coach Ara Parseghian's Irish lead the nation in rush defense in allowing only 174.7 yards per game.

"They're a tremendously large bunch of people, and they're also very quick and extremely well coached," McKay said. "Over the years Notre Dame has been great on defense and I think this is probably one of the best defensive teams Parseghian has ever had."

Quarterback Tommy Clements, who is bound to earn a few Heisman Trophy votes, and fullback Wayne Bullock are the top offensive threats for the Irish.

Clements has completed 106 of 193 passes for 1,388 yards and seven touchdowns while Bullock has rushed for 813 yards on 180 carries. Pete Demmerle is the top receiver with 41 catches.

The Dodgers' exhibition schedule will open at Vero Beach, Fla., against the Tokyo Giants and conclude with a three-game series against the California Angels April 4-6 at Anaheim, Calif., and Dodger Stadium.

Walter Alston will be working on his 22nd one-year contract as manager of the Dodgers and it will be the club's 26th spring training session at Vero Beach.

The Dodgers' league inaugural is scheduled at Cincinnati April 7.

UP AND OVER — Alabama fullback Calvin Culliver (No. 32) gains important first down during action Friday in Crimson Tide-Auburn contest. Culliver scored the winning touchdown as the Tide held on to beat the War Eagles 17-13 and remain undefeated. 'Bama guard Larry Ruffin (No. 70) blocks for Culliver.

Texas puts Baylor in bowl

By United Press International

"They" said it would be a cold day in Texas before the Baylor Bears would get into the Cotton Bowl.

"They" were right as the Texas Longhorns pounced on a couple of frozen-fingered fumbles by Texas A&M in the opening minute of their game Friday to roll to a 32-3 rout that sent Baylor into the Cotton Bowl for the first time.

Before the game was a minute old, the seventh-ranked Aggies had twice fumbled deep in their own territory and the Longhorns had converted both mistakes into touchdowns. And the Baylor team, sitting in the comfort of its own lounge in Waco, was counting a share of its first Southwest Conference championship in 50 years, with the chance to win it outright Saturday against Rice.

Aggies halfback Skip Walker said he thought the cold weather and Texas ball-hawking tactics accounted for the costly early fumbles.

"They were really tackling the ball," he said. "When I first got out there my hands were real cold. We just didn't expect that cold."

The game was played in a 30 mile per hour wind and Texas A&M's Bubba Bean fumbled at his 23 on the first play from scrimmage with Texas recovering. Two plays later, Raymond Clayborn scored on an 18-yard run.

On the Aggies' next play from scrimmage, Longhorns' defensive end Lionel Johnson stole the ball from Aggie fullback Bucky Sams and ran 28 yards for a touchdown. The game was 54 second old and Texas led 14-0.

Texas quarterback Marty Akins, playing with a sprained ankle, scored on runs of 11 and 15 yards later in the game. Texas' freshman fullback Earl Campbell had his best day of the year, gaining 128 yards on 28 carries.

Texas, meanwhile, will play in the Gator Bowl against Auburn.

In Friday's other game, No. 1 ranked Alabama muffed several opportunities to break open the game and had to survive a late scare by Auburn for a 17-13 victory over the War Eagles that gave the Crimson Tide the SEC title and a second straight undefeated regular season.

Alabama's final obstacle in its bid for the national championship is Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, Jan. 1.

Alabama quarterback Richard Todd only completed two passes all afternoon, but one was a 45-yard TD strike to Willie Shelby with 41 seconds left in the first period. Calvin Culliver score what turned to be the winning touchdown on a 13-yard run with 6:41 gone in the third period, giving the Tide a 17-7 lead at that point.

Auburn closed the margin to 17-13 with 2:47 left in the game when quarterback Phil Gargis ran two yards for a touchdown. Gargis' pass for the two-point conversion failed.

SPORTS NEWS IN BRIEF

MIAMI (UPI) — A lucky bettor pulled off a record $38,495.40 trifecta win with a $2 ticket at Calder Race Track Friday, but has not yet shown up to haul away the loot.

"Sometimes they like to wait a couple days to avoid the crowds," Calder publicity official Julian Cole said.

The trifecta, for the fifth race, began when Lee Valley Road, ridden by apprentice jockey Vincent Amato came in first, for a $26.60 payoff. Longshots Reina de Plata and Frannie O finished second and third in the six-furlong race, completing the winning ticket.

The previous record Trifecta win was Oct. 20, 1973 and paid $30,761.40.

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (UPI) — James J. Braddock, the one-time "Cinderella Man" whose defeat of Max Baer for the title in 1935 still ranks as the greatest upset in heavyweight championship history, died Wednesday of natural causes. He was 69.

Braddock, the last of the Irish heavyweight champs and a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame, had 85 professional bouts during his 17-year career, winning 51 including 26 by knockout. A 20-1 underdog when he decisioned Baer for the heavyweight title on June 13, 1935, Braddock lost his title to Joe Louis by a knockout on June 22, 1937.

HIRAKATA, Japan (UPI) — Chris Evert lost only two games in defeating Rosie Casals but John Newcombe stood within two points of defeat against Cliff Drysdale in their respective finals Friday in the $100,000 Gunze Open tennis tournament.

Miss Evert, the Wimbledon champion from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., defeated Miss Casals, 6-0, 6-2, while Newcombe, the WCT title-holder from Australia, came from behind to defeat South Africa's Drysdale, his Texas neighbor, 2-6, 6-2, 7-6.

WELLINGTON, Ohio (UPI) — Melvin's Woe, the 1973 Little Brown Jug winner whose stud value is reputed to be in excess of $500,000, was reported stolen Friday. The owner of the farm where the horse was stabled received a telephone call telling him, "You'll never see your horse again."

The Lorain County Sheriff's office said the horse was reported missing from his stable at the Bonnie Brae Farms.

William Murray, owner of the farms, told the sheriff's office he received a telephone call in which the caller said, "You'll never see your horse again."

HASHIMOTO, Japan (UPI) — Hubie Green shot a four-under-par 68 Friday to lead a team of United States pros to a five-stroke lead over Japan, 586 to 591, in the first round of the fourth 54-hole golf team match between the countries.

Green, who had nines of 33-35, sank a four-foot birdie putt on the par-five final hole to grab a one-stroke lead over teammate Brian "Buddy" Allin in the individual competition for the $16,666 first prize in the $76,000 event.

Dave Stockton was in third place, firing the only other sub par round, a 70, among the 13 competitors, nine on each side, who set out over the 7,200-yard, par-72 Hashimoto Country Club course.

Melugin ignites MSAC

By MIKE RAWLINSON
P-B Staff Writer

Sophomore forward Gary Melugin started a second half rally and sank a free throw with seven seconds to play to lead Mt. San Antonio College to 77-65 victory over Glendale Friday at MSAC.

The Mounties were trailing 36-29 when Melugin opened the second half with three buckets in a row to ignite the team.

Melugin had nine points in the half and finished with 14 for the game, as MSAC claimed its second victory in as many games. The Mounties opened the season Wednesday with a 100-65 win over the alumni. They go after their third win tonight at Rio Hondo College in Whittier.

Fired-up by the sophomore forward from Ganesha High, two other Mounties took up the slack when Melugin cooled off.

George Schader added 14 points in the second half and completed the game with 27 — high for both teams. Tom Pokorski came off the bench to bag 15 points and pull down 12 rebounds.

Schader pepped the Mounties over the alumni with 33 points and 13 rebounds.

"We have a long way to go yet," said coach Gene Victor. "We were lucky tonight. But I'd just as soon be lucky as good."

With less than five minutes elapsed in the final 20 minutes, the Mounties overcame Glendale's lead on a field goal by guard Alan Carlson, 43-42.

The lead exchanged hands twice before MSAC pulled out to a 48-46 advantage on a three-point play by Pokorski.

The Mounties built on that until they had a seven-point bulge, 62-55, with 6:37 to play.

Glendale whittled the lead to a single point in the next five minutes as Ernie Erke, Jim Hurley and Mike Bastone hit baskets. Hurley's steal and layup made it 74-73 with only 60 seconds left to play.

Carlson scored on a free throw with 31 seconds left to give MSAC a two-point cushion, 76-74 and Melugin preserved the win with a free throw at 0:07.

Erke scored at the buzzer for Glendale to account for the final score.

Hurley's 22 points for the game was high for the visitors. Bastone added 18.

Statistically, MSAC shot 44 per cent in the first half, 66 per cent in the second half and 55 per cent for the game. The Mounties were 50 per cent from the free throw line, sinking 11 of 22.

Sagehens beaten in overtime by 1

By SCOTT POINDEXTER
P-B Correspondent

Before 60 fellow Nebraskans, Hastings College of Nebraska nipped the Sagehens of Pomona-Pitzer 86-85 in overtime. That was the way Pomona opened its 1974-75 basketball season Friday night at the Pomona gym in Claremont.

Using a sizzling 82 per cent free throw percentage the Broncos of Hastings hung on to beat the pesky Sagehens, who used a determined defense to stay within five points the whole game. Pomona even had a six point halftime lead, 42-36.

Brandon Boyd, Sagehen forward, led all scorers with 31 points — 12-16 from the floor, 7-7 from the charity stripe. Boyd was complimented by Geoff Northrup's 19 points. Steve Pinkston was the only other Pomona player in double figures with 10.

Leading the Broncos was center Paul Thomas with 17 points, 13 rebounds and 5 assists. Bob Parminter (16) and Pat Sitorius (15), the starting backcourt for Hastings, were continually having to break a Sagehen full-court press. The press made the Broncos cough up the ball seven times.

The taller Hastings team came out cold from the floor but stayed in the game on their freethrow shooting — 14-18 in the first half, and 18-21 in the second. Pomona on the other hand used Boyd and Northrup's hot hands for two-pointers.

One of the more important statistics shows that the Broncos out rebounded the Sagehens, 29-19. Besides Thomas with 13, Wesolowski had 11 — Pomona didn't have a player with over seven.

The Pomona team almost got the break of the game with only five seconds left. Trailing 75-74, Bronco Bob Parminter was called for a technical foul which gave the Sagehens a chance.

Boyd was called upon to shoot the techincal, which he made under a barrage of noise set up by the Hastings rooting section. Calmly shooting the ball in, Boyd then tried a desperation shot from the top of the key which just missed, sending the game into overtime.

The Broncos jumped out to a five point margin in the overtime but the scrappy Sagehens, under the clutch shooting of Pinkston from the freethrow line cut the lead to one point, but time ran out and Hastings, 2-0, had the victory.

Pomona will be traveling up Santa Barbara way to take on Westmont, while Hastings continues their California tour against the Whittier Poets. Both games begin at 8 o'clock.

Army, Navy clash again

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — For years it was one of THE highlights of the collegiate football season, the Army-Navy game, with the game sold out in the summer and 100,000 fans on hand to see the annual clash between the two service academies.

A crowd of over 90,000, including President Ford, is still expected to be at John F. Kennedy Stadium today for the 75th renewal of the rivalry but the game has lost some of its lustre over the years as the football fortunes of the two schools has waned.

Both teams have 3-7 records going into the game, which in the past featured nationally ranked teams led by the likes of Glenn Davis, Doc Blanchard, Pete Dawkins and "Lonely End" Bill Carpenter for the Army and Clyde (Smackover) Scott, Joe Bellino, Greg Mather and Roger Staubach for Navy.

Ford will be the first President to attend the game since 1962 when the late John F. Kennedy came to then Municipal Stadium, which was to later bear his name, to see Navy beat Army 34-14 behind Staubach.

Army, which has victories only over Lafayette, Air Force and Holy Cross, is still smarting over last year's 51-0 rout by Navy which gave the Cadets a winless season and led to the firing of coach Tom Cahill.

Navy, which beat Virginia, Penn State and the Citadel, was a six to eight point favorite but the intense rivalry sparked by the traditional series has resulted in frequent upsets.

The fervor of the rivalry even prompted Army coach Homer Smith to lament: "What do you do psychologically to prepare for the Army-Navy game? It's all done for you. The spirit is explosive."

Navy coach George Welsh, a former Middie quarterback, also remarked that, "This is our game. No other game is as important to the two squads as this one."

Smith has Army running from the Wishbone offense directed by quarterback Scott Gillogly but Navy also fears the Cadets' "Bomb Squad" in which freshman quarterback Leamon Hall directs an entire new backfield inserted for passing in long yardage situations.

Welsh has not yet named his quarterback. Phil Poirier started the first nine games for the Middies but freshman Mike Roban was at the helm in last week's 22-0 loss to Georgia Tech.

Army's hopes may well rest on the toes of placekickers Mike Castelli, a freshman, and Mike Marquez, a sophomore.

Castelli, who was injured in the Air Force game, had kicked a 24-yard field goal with 18 seconds remaining for Army's 13-10 victory over Holy Cross. Marquez, his replacement, booted one from 33 yards with 17 seconds left for the Cadet's 17-16 victory over the Air Force.

But Navy has a kicking game of its own with placekicker Steve Dykes and punter John Stufflebeem.

Dykes kicked two field goals, one a school record of 48 yards, to give Navy a 6-0 lead over Notre Dame for three quarters. And Stufflebeem continually throttled the Irish with his punting for those three quarters before the Middies suffered a hard-fought 14-6 loss in a game also played in Philadelphia earlier this month.

Paul Newton is Poly's other returning starter

Tall Biola cagers figure to give Poly rough opener

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LA MIRADA — Cal Poly is in a much rougher basketball opener here tonight than it ever imagined when it scheduled Biola College.

Biola is much stronger than last year's 12-13 record indicates.

Thanks to some tall, talented recruits, Biola must be considered one of the top contenders in the NAIA District Three ranks.

Poly coach Don Hogan had a chance to watch the Eagles defeat their Alumni, 59-55, last week.

"I thought Biola looked very good," Hogan said. "I am surprised at the quality of talent on the team."

Tonight's season opener for both teams begins at 8 p.m. following a 6 p.m. junior varsity contest.

It is one of only four games for Poly until January. Following tonight's action, Poly has only three road games in December. The Broncs will be competing in the University of San Diego Tournament on Dec. 13-14 and will visit Cal State Fullerton on Dec. 18.

Hogan has made a change from his tentative starting lineup tonight with Denny Weisse (6-5), a transfer from Casper (Wyo.) Junior College, taking a forward spot in place of letterman Bill Bunker (6-1).

Besides the obvious height advantage, Hogan also likes the idea of Bunker coming off the bench.

"Bunker is the type of player who can come in at any point and do a good job." Hogan said. "He's valuable in that role."

Forward Paul Newton (6-4) is Poly's only returning starter. The other starters are 6-6 Bill Cantwell, a transfer from Long Beach City College, at center, plus guards Dick Gross, a 6-2 transfer from Seattle University, and Tom Ispas, a 5-8 freshman from East Chicago, Ind.

Poly will have only eight players until January. Also bound to see plenty of action are David Kennedy and Malcolm Kennedy (not relatives) who earned letters last year.

Biola coach Howard Lyon will open the year with six lettermen, three junior college transfers, one university transfer and two freshmen recruits.

The two freshmen are Mike Bunn and Tim Warkentin, a pair of 6-8 prospects. From the JCs are Jim Worthy from Orange Coast, Rob Webb from Rio Hondo and Jim Tiefentahler from Chabot. Billy Ingram from the University of Oregon is a top addition.

Ed Newkirk, an All-District choice last year when he averaged 15.2 points and 7.5 rebounds per game, tops the list of lettermen.

"It's going to be tough to match up with Biola," Hogan said. "I don't see how we can effectively but I hope we can put a lot of pressure on them and wear them down."

Jim McKinney will be making his coaching debut with the junior varsity in the preliminary.

SC may have another A.D. for next year

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — After Anthony Davis, who?

John McKay, whose University of Southern California Trojans have just wrapped up their third Rose Bowl trip in a row, is way ahead of you on that question.

Davis, USC's flashy 1974 Heisman Trophy candidate, will be gone next season but McKay appears to have handpicked a successor to become the Trojans' I formation tailback in '75.

"I'm hoping for the best," said Dwight Ford, a 5-11, 180-pound former Bell High School of Los Angeles star. "Next year the job's open and my chances look just as good as anybody else."

The 18-year-old freshman was recruited heavily a year ago. Oklahoma wanted him. So did the other Pacific-8 schools.

"I wanted to come to SC and the fact that A.D. was a senior settled it," said Ford. "I figured I could learn a lot from watching him and I have. He's good, real good."

The tipoff of McKay's plans for next year may be his rooming arrangements for '74. The USC coach has Ford and Davis together as roommates.

"A.D. has taken the time to show me a lot and there's a lot to learn," said Ford, who won't be 19 until next Sept. 6. "He's showed me how to protect myself, for example. Everybody is big and everybody is good in college and you have to know how to take care of yourself."

The fleet freshman has spent the season as USC's No. 3 tailback behind Davis and Allen Carter, also a senior. Carter was injured in USC's 34-9 victory over UCLA last Saturday that clinched the Pac-8 football title.

"I'm used to playing a lot," said Ford, "so this situation was a little strange. But I understood it before I got here. A.D. and A.C. were in front of me.

"Still, everybody likes to play as much as he can and it's hard sitting."

Like Davis, the new Pac-8 career rushing record holder. Ford runs the 40-yard dash in 4.5 seconds. But they've never had a match race

"We jive around about it, though," the freshman offered.

Meyer's opinion:

Wooden is reason why Bruins win

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — All Americas Bill Walton and Keith Wilkes are gone but Dave Meyers, the lone returning starter on UCLA's basketball team, isn't conceding anything to anyone.

The reason should be obvious, Meyers said. The Bruins have the Wizard of Westwood back.

"We didn't lose our coach," the 6-7½ forward from La Habra, Calif., said. "UCLA has lost some great players in the past and look what's happened."

Meyers, the coverboy on the NCAA Basketball Guide this year, has a point. A strong point.

John Wooden, the Wizard of Westwood, has nine NCAA championships in the past 11 seasons.

"I know a lot of people think we're going to drop down a whole level because we lost Bill and Keith," Meyers declared.

"Well, don't you believe it. We've got the best coach in the country and we've got exceptional personnel. We have some great players. They can play with anybody."

UCLA was favored to win its eighth straight national championship last season but it didn't happen. The Bruins, inconsistent throughout the year, were upset by North Carolina State in the NCAA semifinals.

North Carolina State then won the national crown that was supposed to go to the Bruins.

"I don't think we played well together at all last season," offered Meyers. "I honestly feel we'll be a much better team—I mean we'll play better team ball—this year.

"Last season a lot of times our offense was predicated to Bill and Keith. That's understandable. But when Bill and Keith were double-teamed, we had three guys standing there. I know usually I had a 6-3 guy standing next to me."

In UCLA's opening season game last Friday night, Meyers scored 15 points to lead all Bruin scorers in an 80-60 exhibition win over Athletes In Action.

"I don't feel any pressure just because I'm the only returning starter," Meyers said.

"I think I can do all things well on a basketball court—scoring, defense, rebounding. If I'm not having a big scoring night, I try to concentrate on the other things I do well. No, there's no pressure on me."

Can UCLA go all the way?

"It's not inconceivable but we do have a long road ahead of us.

Top Big 10 teams open play tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Indiana and Purdue, probably the top favorites in the Big Ten basketball chase, open the season Saturday night in two of the eight games slated for conference teams.

The Hoosiers, co-champions a year ago, will be at home against Tennessee Tech and Purdue at home against Indiana State. The other cochampion, Michigan, also opens at home against Toledo, while darkhorse Minnesota will be at home against North Dakota.

In the other games involving the Big Ten, Virginia Commonwealth will be at Iowa, Northwestern at Kentucky, Ball State at Ohio State, and Ohio University at Wisconsin. Notre Dame also opens at Valparaiso

Michigan State plays at home against Central Michigan and Illinois at home against Valparaiso in Monday openers.

Jake Gaither to get honor

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Alonzo Smith "Jake" Gaither, who never had a losing season in 23 years as Florida A&M football coach, has been chosen to receive the 1975 Walter Camp Award.

Gaither, who retired as coach in 1969 after compiling a record of 203 wins, 36 loses and four ties at the school, will receive the award named after the Yale University football coach at a Jan. 25 dinner in New Haven.

Voted coach of the year in 1963, Gaither, 70, remained athletic director at Florida A&M until his retirement last year.

Gaither's teams won the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference 22 of the 23 years he was head coach and were honored as mythical national black champions six times.

Pomona flag tourney set

The Second Annual Pomona Division II Flag Football Tournament gets underway Monday at Palomares Park.

A total of 16 teams, making up three leagues in Pomona, have been entered. Unfortunately one squad has been forced to drop out. All evening games will be played at Palomares Park, capped with the semifinals and championship on Saturday and Sunday at Washington Park.

The teams entered from the Tri-Way League include the Rams (5-0), the Bengals (3-2), the Chiefs (4-1), the Chargers (2-3), and the Browns (1-4).

The Emerson League consists of the 49ers (5-0), the Redskins (4-1), the Cardinals (3-2), the Giants (2-3), the Cowboys (0-5) and the Eagles (1-4).

The Marshall League has such teams as the Dolphins (4-0-1), the Patriots (4-1-1), the Colts (2-4) and the Jets (0-6).

First round competition pits the Jets against the Chiefs (6 p.m.) and the Bengals against the Giants (7 p.m.) on Monday, the Eagles against the Patriots (6 p.m.) and the Rams against the Cowboys (7 p.m.) on Tuesday, the Colts against the Cardinals (6 p.m.) and the Redskins against the Chargers (7 p.m.) on Wednesday, and the Browns against the Dolphins (6 p.m.) on Thursday. The 49ers drew a bye for the first round by virtue of a forfeit over the Steeler, who dropped out of the tourney.

Noren hired by Cubbies

CHICAGO (UPI) — Irv Noren, veteran former major leaguer and more recently a coach for the Oakland A's, has been hired as third base coach by the Chicago Cubs, Manager Jim Marshall announced Wednesday.

The Noren appointment completes the Cubs' coaching staff for the 1975 season.

"He was my choice from a list of 20 names considered for the position," Marshall said.

Childrens lending and reference library open

There is a new children's lending and reference library at Pilgrim Congregational Church, Pomona.

The A.T. Richardson Children's Library was dedicated at the church last Sunday.

The library, according to the Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, minister of the church, will serve as a resource library for parents and teachers as well as a lending library for the children of the church.

He points out that the children's library will include a wide variety of literature. Pepronia Merjanian, minister of education and counseling at the church, suggested the library as being a needed resource. As family counselor at the church she was aware of the need for books for and about youths as well as the need for a more extensive collection for religious education, Mr. Gaskell said.

The library will specialize in books on child raising to increase understanding of children and youths, he said.

He pointed out that the children's library is in its beginning.

"We have the physical facilities but the book collection largely lies ahead. Funds for the collection are available through the Richardson family youth fund and from other donors," he said.

The dedication Sunday included a litany of dedication during the morning services and a reception of unveiling of the memorial plaque following the services.

A.T. Richardson, late publisher of the Progress-Bulletin, was an active member of the church school staff for 45 years. He was superintendent of the Sunday school for 21 of those years. An active member of the church until his death, he held many other positions of responsibility including moderator of the church.

70th anniversary to be celebrated

Members will celebrate the 70th anniversary of the First Church of the Nazarene, Upland this weekend.

This evening a banquet, with six former pastors participating, will begin the festivities.

The Rev. W. E. Thompson, pastor from 1951 to 1962, will be the featured speaker. The Rev. Bill Burch, pastor 1964-68, and Mrs. Burch will sing. sing.

Other pastors participating include the Rev. O. F. Goettel (1912-15), the Rev. D. Shelby Corlett (1920-24), the Rev. W. H. Burton (1944-1951) and the Rev. B. Edgar Johnson (1962-64).

In addition to other music by the Brenneman Sisters and Sue Bangle, moments of the past will be presented. N. H. Hull, district superintendent of the Southern California District Church of the Nazarene and Abner Holdeman, mayor of Upland, will also deliver greetings.

Sunday "70x7" is the theme representing the goal for Sunday school attendance. B. Edgar Johnson of Kansas City, Mo., now general secretary of the denomination, will present the sermon during the morning worship hour at 11.

The music will be provided by Bert Sheets and the Sanctuary Choir. In the evening service at 6 the Rev. Randy Michael, former member and now pastor of a Kansas City church will speak. Special music for this service will be given by "The New Song", the Larry Whitcombs, the Rev. and Mrs. Kerry Lumley, and Duane Kuntz.

The church was organized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Whipple on the corner of First Avenue and C Street Dec. 4, 1904. Fifteen persons joined at this organizational meeting. Today there are 450 church members and 814 enrolled in Sunday school. Several members across the years have gone out into the ministry as pastors, missionaries, and denominational workers.

The present location was purchased in 1951 and construction began under the leadership of the Rev. W. E. Thompson. Prior to this the congregation worshiped at Second Avenue and Ninth Street then later moved the building to Third Avenue and Ninth Street which is still being used by another church.

This year approximately 25 per cent of its income or $26,000 will be given to interests outside the local church such as missions, both foreign and home, colleges, and district interests.

Inter-generational learning event set

An inter-generational Advent learning event will start this Sunday at 9 a.m. at Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational.

Breakfast will be served, for 25 cents per person. The theme will be "Old Testament Prophecies." There will be creative activities including clay work, painting, role play and fantasy trips.

The event will be held in the league of youth room in the educational buildling of the church.

At the same time in the Louise Roberts room of the church Esther L. Hibbard will discuss "The Role of Women in Japan." Born in Tokyo as a daughter of missionary parents, she served as a missionary teacher in Japan. She has retired recently to Pilgrim Place, Claremont.

A Thursday evening study group will begin next Thursday in the Louise Roberts room of the church. Led by Clyde Curran, faculty member of the Claremont Graduate School, three weekly meetings will explore the potential of biofeedback as a form of religious life-style, framework for meditation and an aid to spiritual growth.

The 7:30 p.m. meetings will be limited to one hour. Those participating are asked to attend all three sessions and read some parts of the book, "Biofeedback" by Karlins and Andrews.

Youth chorus will present 'Lightshine'

The New Joys, youth chorale of the First Church of God, Pomona, will present the musical "Lightshine" this Sunday evening at 6 at the church.

The musical, written by Buryl Red and Grace Hawthorne, is a staged journey with a mime as he searches for happiness.

Mark Hibbard, Pomona, is cast as the mime for the production. The musical is directed by the Rev. Dean C. Shield, minister of music. There are 40 members of the cast.

Geologist says volcano is potentially active

CHENEY, Wash. (UPI) — Hissing steam and other evidence of volcanic activity was discovered during an expedition to a 10,788-foot peak on glacier-covered Mt. Baker, a geologist said recently.

Dr. Eugene Kiver said the activity indicated that if the mountain in northwest Washington erupted it could cause mudflows and other geological upheavals and result in considerable loss of life and property.

Kiver, a professor of geology at Eastern Washington State College, said he headed a team of scientists to a crater below the summit of the peak, where sulphur-rich gases were seen escaping through volcanic vents, indicating molten rock of more than 1,700 degrees exists deep in the mountain.

"Geologists only need to look at the uneroded slopes of this glacier-covered giant, the fresh surface of the sulphur creek lava flow or the furious discharge of steam from the fumarole vents in the crater to know that this mountain is a potentially active volcano," Kiver said.

The last eruption on Mt. Baker occurred 104 years ago, Kiver said. There were 10 recorded eruptions between 1842 and 1870.

Kiver said his team spent five days exploring the mountain's crater during August and that he plans another expedition for next summer.

Society is preparing Bible for illiterate

By DAVID E. ANDERSON
UPI Religion Writer

Advent, which begins this year with the first Sunday in December, is traditionally within the churches a time of preparing for the festival celebrations of Christmas and Epiphany.

So, too, with the American Bible Society, which is deep into a project of preparing the Bible for the illiterate and the barely literate.

"Literacy education," according to Society executive secretary the Rev. John D. Erickson, "has been extremely successful in the past few decades."

But often, he said, up to 50 per cent of the new readers in the world return to illiteracy because they have nothing to read.

The aim of the society's program, which officials estimate will cost some $62.8 million, is to produce and distribute some 725 million Good News Scripture Literacy Selections in more than 209 languages.

In the English version for new readers, the birth of Jesus, from the second chapter of Matthew, reads like this:

Jesus was born in the town of Bethlehem,
In the land of Judea,
While Herod was king.
Soon afterward some men who studied the stars
Came from the east to Jerusalem.
They asked,
"Where is the baby
Who will become the king of the Jews?
We saw his star
When it came up in the east.
Now we have come to worship him....

In the version of the birth of Jesus in the book of Luke, which is just off the Bible Society's presses, the story is told this way:

She was pregnant,
and while they were in Bethlehem,
the time came for her to have her baby.
She gave birth to her first
son, wrapped him in cloths and laid him in a feed box in a barn,
for there was no room in an inn where they could stay."

According to society officials, not only is the simple language designed to assist new readers, but the arrangement of the story into "sense lines" with the emphasis and stresses developed through indenting also play a key role in helping the new reader learn.

The program is designed around a series of 36 publications which start new readers with simple words and then move them through five reading levels of more complex material.

The first level is barely above the primer-level of basic literacy training, while the fifth level is near the common language level of much available reading matter, such as newspapers.

Documentary film slated

"Something Beautiful for God," a documentary film showing the life and work of Mother Teresa of India, will be shown at St. Madeleine Catholic Church, Pomona on Thursday evening at 7:30.

The 50-minute film was produced by the British Broadcasting Co. from the book of the same title written by Malcolm Muggeridge. It has won numerous awards including two nominations for the Nobel Peace prize.

Mother Teresa recently left the Missionaries of Charity, a group originally working in Calcutta to take care of the dying, unwanted poor. There are presently 800 sisters in foundations serving the poor in India and throughout the world. The men's branch, Missionary Brothers of Charity, founded in 1967, now number nearly 200.

Mother Tersa recently caused a sensation by refusing a $500,000 trust fund, choosing instead to depend on God.

The Rev. Donald Kribs, West Coast representative of the Co-Workers of Mother Teresa in America, will make the presentation. The public is invited to view the film with no charge.

Name Ponisettia ambassador

More than a hundred years ago our Ambassador to Mexico Joel Roberts Poinsett, took a fancy to a brilliant tropical plant, known as the Mexican Fire Plant.

Returning to his home in South Carolina, he started growing the plant from cuttings he brought from Mexico. Soon the scarlet-leafed plant came to the attention of American botanists, and under the name "poinsettia," it was destined to become symbolic of Christmas.

In tropic climates, poinsettia is grown in varieties of white, pink and yellow, but by far the most popular is the bright red that carries out the color scheme of Christmas.

Treat yourself to a warm bath

Try taking a leisurely soak in the bathtub every day, letting the lukewarm water relax your muscles. Return to your mirror, freshening your makeup and hair-comb when necessary.

With firm fingertip massaging to smooth away tension lines and feelings, follow this routine for your soapsuds facial.

Start at the collarbone and lather all over your neck.

Next, lather from your chin to your ears and around the mouth, massaging in circular motions.

Follow up the sides of your face, around the nose, and up to the temples.

Finally, cleanse around the eyes and forehead.

Rinse with warm water.

For added zing and glow, splash with cold water or wrap an ice cube in a washcloth and gently rub it over your face and neck.

Make time for beauty "pick-me-ups" if you become frazzled. 'Tis your season to be glowing.

A bee stings once

A bee can sting only once, because its barbed stinger remains in the wound; the stingers of wasps and hornets are not barbed, enabling these insects to sting their victims repeatedly.

New church

The Community Missionary Baptist Church has been organized in Pomona, with the Rev. Warren Taylor as pastor. The church at 1162 W. Mission Blvd., Pomona, will continue the program of the Christian Community Center Mission, Mr. Taylor said. He noted, however that larger facilities will be required for the growing membership of the church.

The Christian Community Center asks for help in providing food and clothing to needy families. Those wishing to make donations of these goods may bring them to the center or call 629-1628.

Leading the Advent worship will be Bobbie Johnson and Jim Zerillo.

Services planned

Services at Macedonia Baptist Church, Pomona on Sunday are being planned by the officers and members of the church. They have arranged for a guest speaker for the 11 a.m. service.

At 3 p.m. the Rev. W. Lee Robinson, pastor of Greater Morning Star Baptist Church of Santa Monica will be the speaker.

The Macedonia Choir will furnish the music with guest soloist Kathy Hill.

Talk on Africa

He has recently returned from his missionary duties on the Ivory Coast in Africa. His appearance at the church will be to relate his work to Africa.

Smokers run highest risk of sudden fatal attacks

DALLAS (UPI) — A team of doctors said today cigarette smokers run a very high risk of sudden fatal heart attacks, but there appears to be no link between drinking and heart attack deaths.

Dr. Arthur L. Klatsky of the Kaiser-Permanente Medical Care Program in Oakland, Calif., told the American Heart Association conference of a study of 197 men who died within 24 hours of an attack.

"Cigarette smoking was positively associated with sudden cardiac death; coffee drinking, heavy aspirin use, and alcohol showed no statistically significant association," Klatsky said.

"The comparison of responses about cigarette smoking showed that current cigarette smokers seemed to be at substantially greater risk of subsequent sudden cardiac death than were those who stated that they do not currently smoke," he said.

He said previous theories were that aspirin and limited alcohol drinking helped prevent sudden attacks. However, he said, the study showed no connection.

Also, he said, there was no direct link between persons drinking at least six cups of coffee per day and sudden death victims.

Klatsky said all of the men studied in the group had completed questionnaires during physical examination prior to their death and their answers were compared to a similar group of cardiac patients who did not die later of sudden attacks.

THE
SECOND COMING of CHRIST
MANKIND'S ONLY HOPE

Many people are looking anxiously at what the future holds in store: Economic collapse, Disastrous famines, Exhausting of natural resources, Worldwide terror by revolutionary forces, World War III, etc. All of these seem more likely with each passing day. The actions of mankind have verified the conclusion of the Prophet Jeremiah that 'It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.' IS THERE A WAY OUT?

To the Bible-student these times have been expected for a long while as the final signs preceding Christ's return to the earth! In Jesus' own words:

"AND THERE WILL BE SIGNS IN SUN, MOON AND STARS, AND UPON THE EARTH DISTRESS OF NATIONS IN PERPLEXITY AT THE ROARING OF THE SEA AND WAVES. MEN FAINTING WITH FEAR AND WITH FOREBODING AT WHAT IS COMING ON THE WORLD; FOR THE POWERS OF HEAVEN SHALL BE SHAKEN. AND THEN THEY WILL SEE THE SON OF MAN COMING IN A CLOUD WITH POWER AND GREAT GLORY"
LUKE 21:25, 26 (RSV)

- What is the purpose of Christ's coming?
- How will the world react to his return?
- Will He be considered to be 'the Anti-Christ?'
- Where will his Kingdom be established, in heaven or earth?
- What about the Judgment and the resurrection of the dead?
- What is the reward for the Faithful in Christ?
- What will your role be when these momentous events happen?

These are some of the questions to be answered in a straightforward, challenging BIBLE talk, entitled:

THE SECOND COMING OF CHRIST — MANKIND'S ONLY HOPE

U.S. should charge Canada for oil sent through pipelines

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States should charge Canada for oil it moves through U.S. pipelines unless Canada agrees to drop an export tax that makes its oil more expensive than that of the Arabs, Sen. William E. Brock, R-Tenn., says.

Brock urged in a letter to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that the State Department try to force Canada to eliminate the tax.

He suggested taxing or restricting Canadian oil that flows through U.S. pipelines as a "bargaining chip."

"We urge you to enter into immediate negotiations with the Canadian government in an effort to eliminate this tax," Brock wrote.

The United States pays between $11 and $13 for a barrel of crude oil imported from the Arab nations belonging to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. Canada, not a member of OPEC, charges an additional $5 a barrel export tax, apparently in an effort to restrict exports.

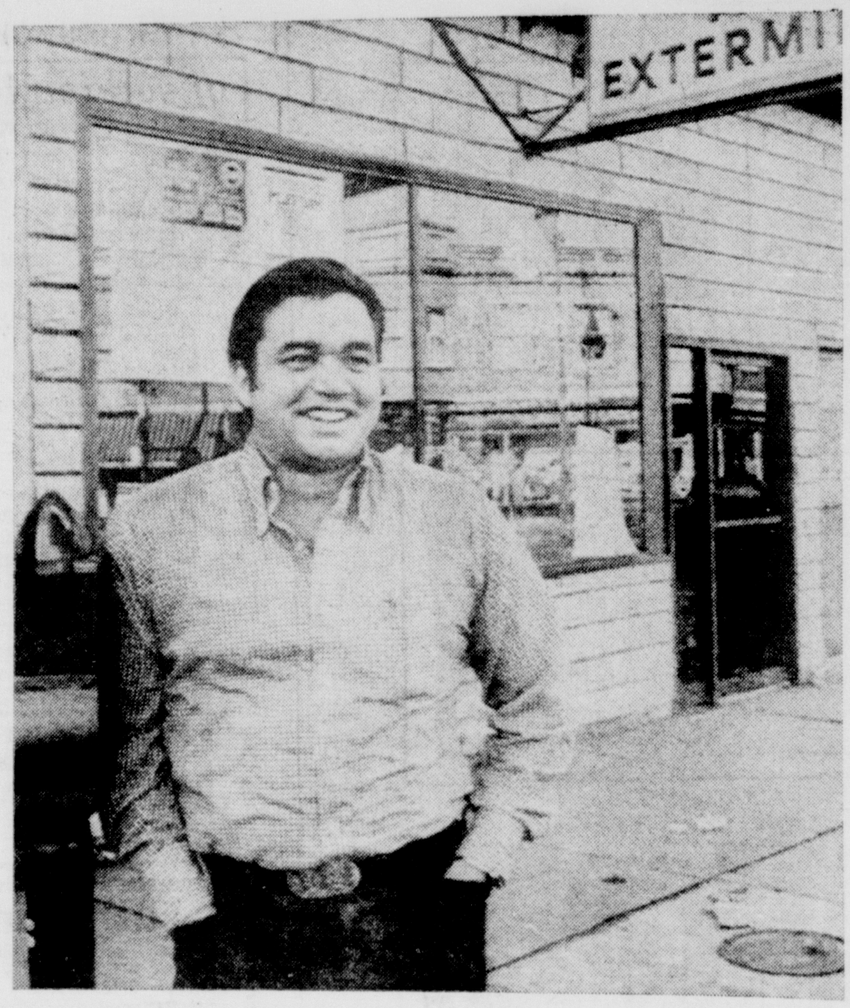

"Canada is our second largest supplier of oil," said Brock.

"As you know the U.S. has several bargaining chips that could be used to induce the Canadians to remove this tax" —the 400,000 barrels of Canadian oil that move through the Interprovincial-Lakehead pipeline from the west to Ontario and the 500,000-per-day barrels of imported crude oil pipelined from Portland, Maine, to Montreal.

"The U.S. is in a good position to curtail, restrict, or tax shipments of crude oil over U.S. soil for use in Canadian refineries," Brock said. "The U.S. could impose a pipeline transit tax on Canadian oil and this tax could then be earmarked to offset the Canadian export tax on crude oil."

Brock, reached by telephone in Lookout Mountain, Tenn., said he was "asking that this government act to protect American consumers from what we feel is a discriminatory tax by the Canadian government."

An aide said 17 senators also signed the letter.

SUGAR DADDY — Bachelor James Easter, 30, stands outside his small exterminating business on Chicago's northwest side. He won $1 million in the state lottery earlier this month. Although he hasn't had a date in four years, he recently started receiving letters and phone calls from interested women. He says he will stay single.

King willing to return to Greece as civilian

LONDON (UPI) — Exiled King Constantine of Greece says he's ready to return to his homeland as a private citizen if Greek voters refuse to put him back on the throne.

"The great dream of my family and myself is to live in our homeland," he told a news conference Thursday. "I think that if nobody has lived in exile then they can't realize the frustration and bitterness.

The Greek people were scheduled to vote Dec. 8 in a referendum on whether Greece should be a monarchy or a republic.

"No matter what the referendum decides I shall always be ready to return to my country and serve it in any capacity, at any time."

The king and queen fled Greece in 1967 after failing in an abortive coup to topple a military junta that had seized power earlier in the year.

The Greek royal family lived in Rome before moving to Britain last year. The youngest of their three children was born in exile.

"I certainly hope that no matter what the decision of the Greek people will be —which we all respect —we will be able to return to our homeland," the deposed king said.

Constantine said he recognized the structure of the Greek monarchy would have to be watered down even if the voters agree to his return as king.

"The new kind of democracy is one in which it is not for me to set political policy, but to act as a symbol of national unity and stability," he said.

"My title after Dec. 9 will not be king of Greece, but king of the Hellenes," he said. "I will represent all Greeks throughout the world, the strong and the weak, the majority and the minority, and in this respect I think the monarchy could serve the country well."

He said he would leave military appointments to the governing authorities —on the understanding that the armed forces would stay out of political affairs.

Premier Constantine Caramanlis ordered the referendum after winning an overwhelming victory earlier this month in Greece's first free elections in a decade.

Caramanlis returned from exile in Paris last summer and set up a provisional civilian government when the Greek military junta collapsed during the Cyprus crisis.

Chitlin Strut to attract 20,000

SALLEY, S. C. (UPI) — Some 20,000 peroons are expected to attend the ninth annual Chitlin Strut today with a turkey stoot and music show among the featured events.

Chitlins are hog intestines, scraped clean, boiled in large kettles and deep fried in huge wash pots. The odor, according to townspeople, is "indescribable."

More than two tons of chitlins were served at last year's strut and Mayor Jack Able and city councilman Terry McMillan say they will have 150 persons working on the serving line this year to serve the three tons being cooked.

Able said along with the chitlins, 300 chickens, 75 hogs, 600 gallons of iced tea, a ton of cole slaw, 30 gallons of pickles and 800 loaves of bread will be served.

Able said he had received letters from all over the nation and some from overseas concerning the strut.

He even got a query from Saudi Arabia.

"I don't know if they are interested in chitlins or if they think they might find oil here," he told one reporter.

Able originated the idea for the strut in 1966 as a way to raise funds for Christmas decorations. All proceeds from the event go for municipal improvements.

Grocery chain freezes prices

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Kroger Co., the nation's third largest supermarket chain, announced Friday it would freeze the retail price of 1,100 grocery items for the next two months at its 1,240 stores in 20 states.

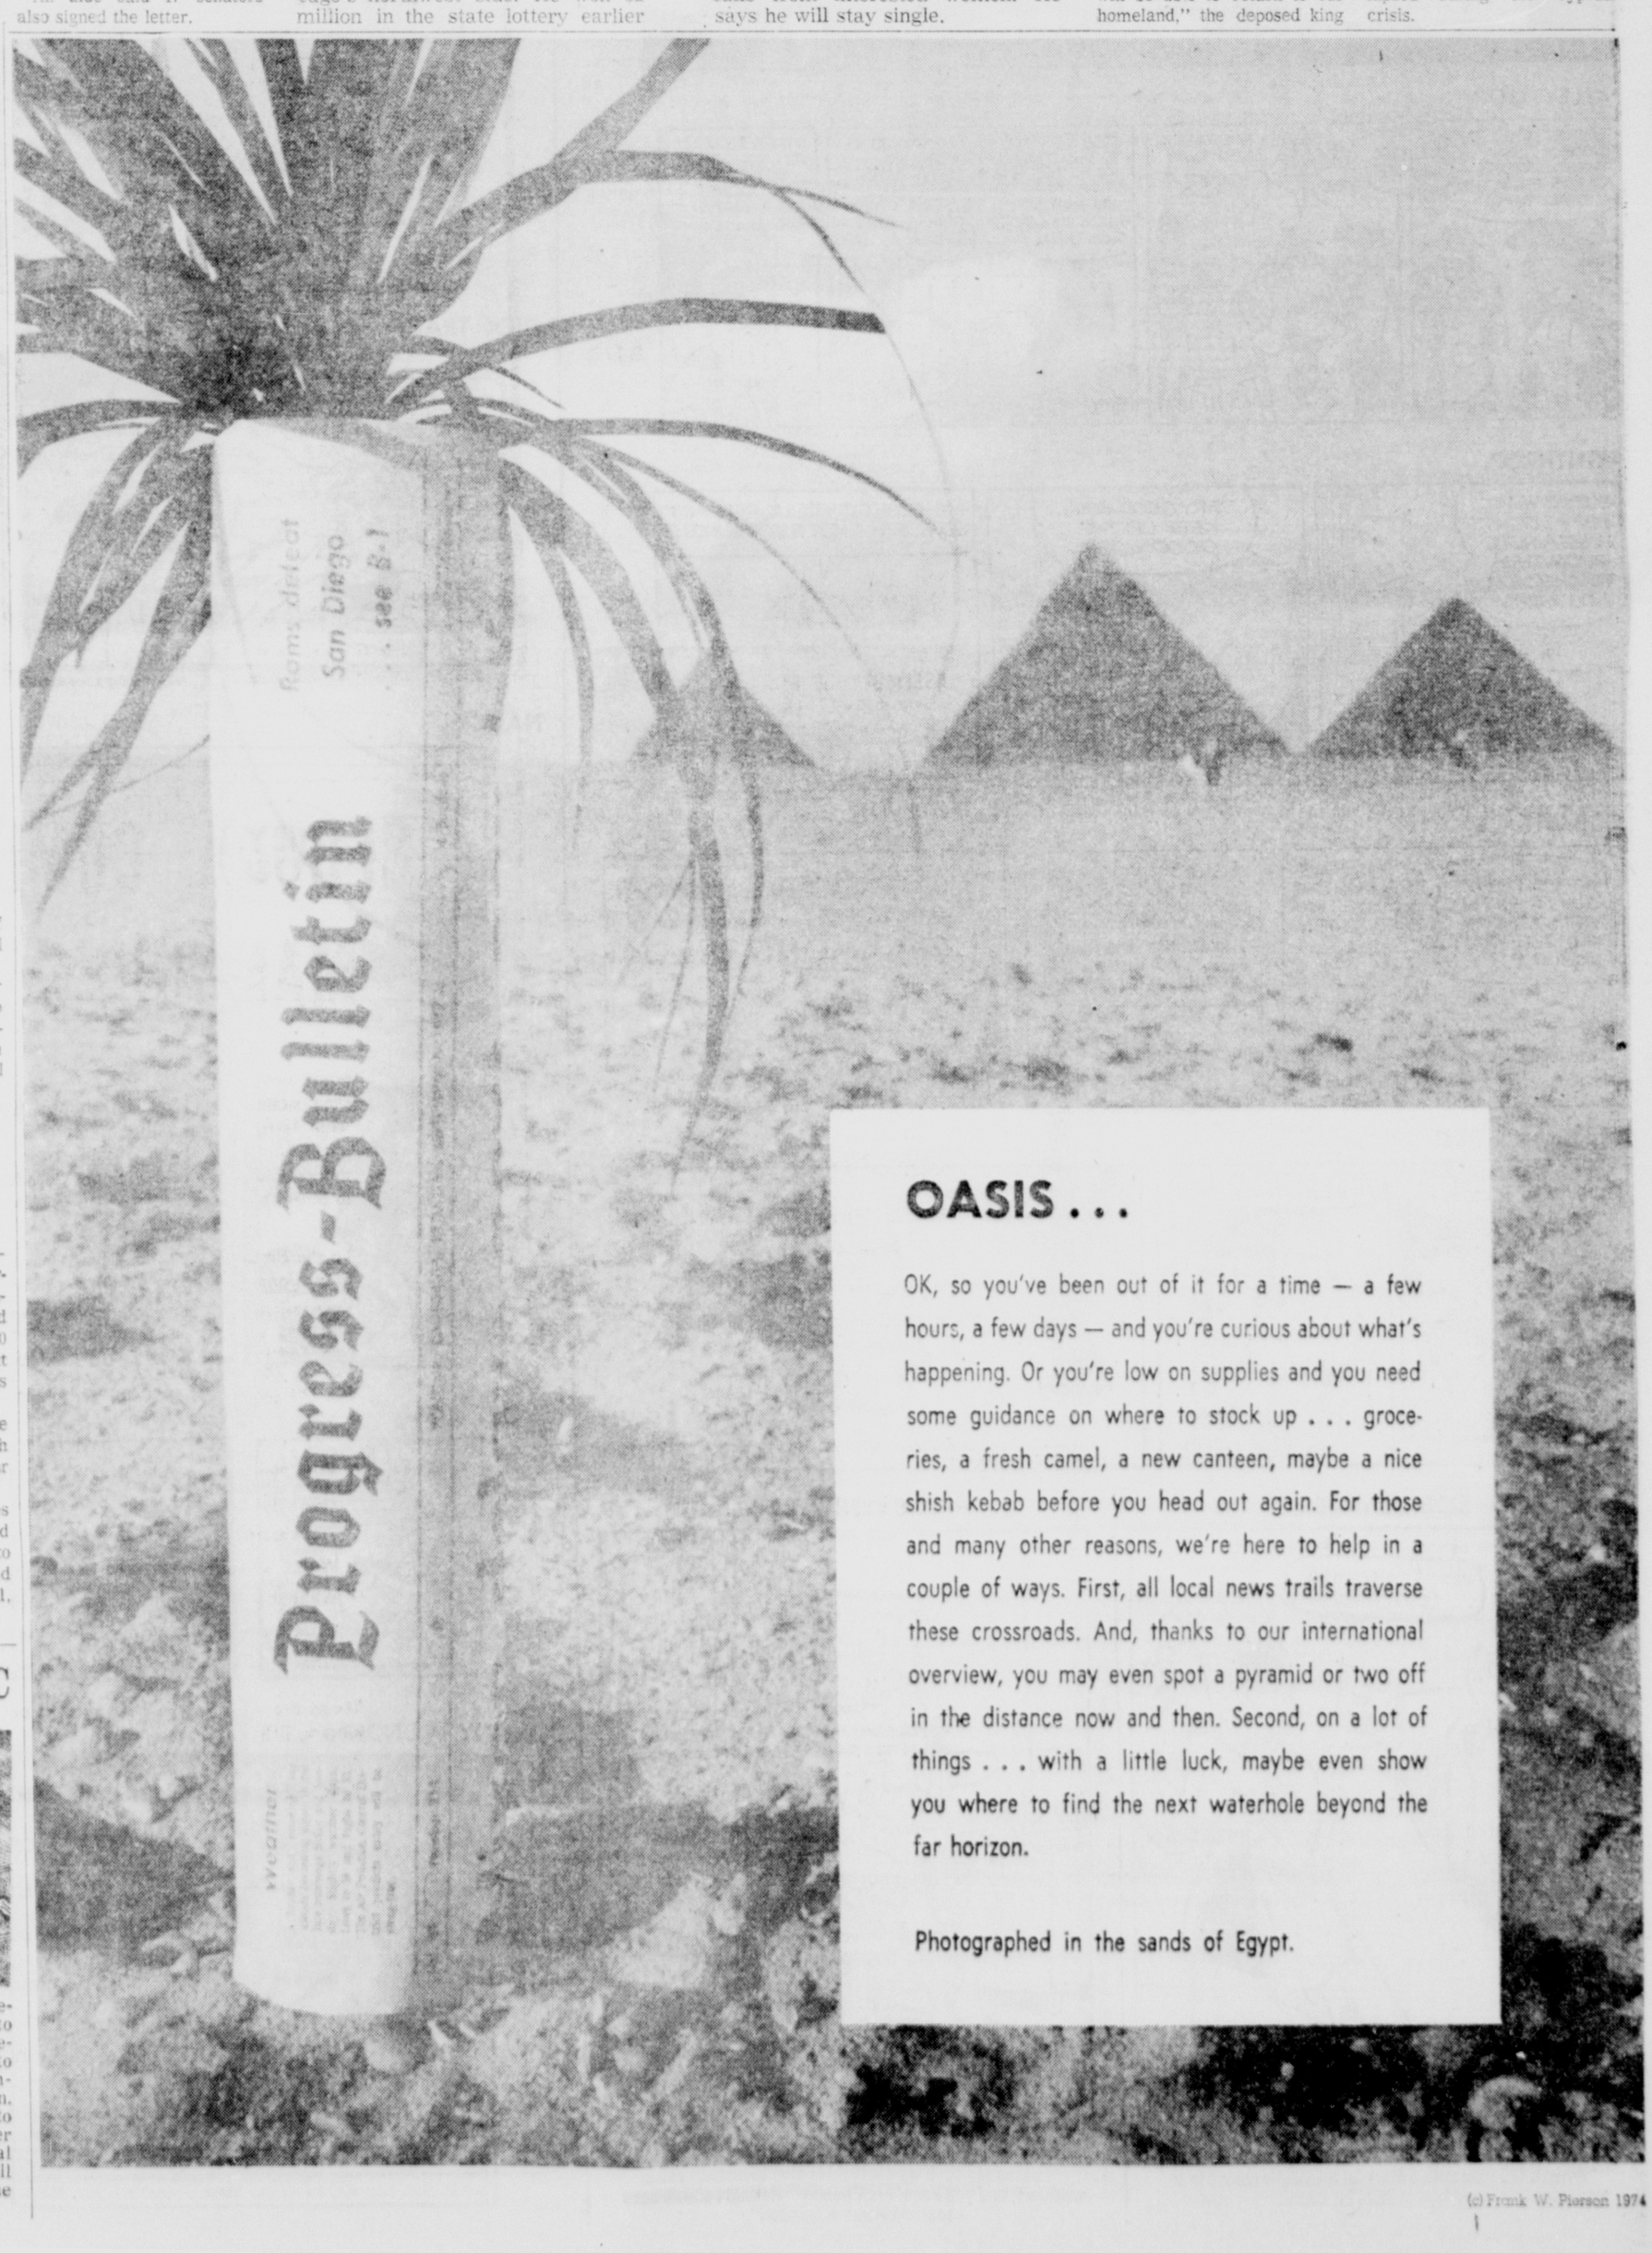

The freeze does not include the prices on sugar, fresh meat or produce, Kroger said.

Kroger president James Herring said a decision would be made at a later date to decide if the program could be continued past Feb. 1, 1976.

Frank Robinson will become the first black man to manage a major league baseball team. He was selected to manage the Cleveland Indians for the 1975 season. OASIS . . .

OK, so you've been out of it for a time — a few hours, a few days — and you're curious about what's happening. Or you're low on supplies and you need some guidance on where to stock up . . . groceries, a fresh camel, a new canteen, maybe a nice shish kebab before you head out again. For those and many other reasons, we're here to help in a couple of ways. First, all local news trails traverse these crossroads. And, thanks to our international overview, you may even spot a pyramid or two off in the distance now and then. Second, on a lot of things . . . with a little luck, maybe even show you where to find the next waterhole beyond the far horizon.

Rainfall is measured in most parts of the world by means of a special instrument called a rain gauge. It measures the amount of rain that falls on a certain place during a given period of time.

Among the many kinds of rain gauges made, the simplest kind is shaped like a hollow tube closed at the lower end, with a funnel in the top.

The rain falls into the funnel and flows into the narrow tube where it can be measured easily.

Rainfall is measured in inches. When the weatherman says that we have had one inch of rainfall, he means enough rain has fallen to make a layer of water one inch deep on level ground if none sank in.

When he speaks of a "trace of rain," he means that the rainfall is too slight to be measured.

Rainfall means all the water that falls, including snow, sleet and hail. It takes about 10 or 12 inches of snow to equal one inch of rain.

A radio, camera, globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Population turnover

In this Centennial year as we delve into Pomona's past, one of the things history discloses is that people may come and people may go but Pomona goes on forever. —However, it is also a matter of historical record that the comings and goings of Pomonans during our city's first 15 formative years were undoubtedly, on a percapita percentage basis, somewhat more rapid than they are today.

We can thank the editor of The Pomona Daily Review for this interesting information concerning our city's growth, for, on June 22, 1904, in order to give his readers some idea of the migratory habits of Pomona's early day settlers, he cited these amazing statistics.

"Only one man is in business on Second Street who was doing business there 15 years ago. That man is P. J. Tarr."

"A residence at 712 W. 3rd Street has been occupied by 17 different families in 15 years."

And then, undoubtedly without realizing how it could possibly be interpreted by his subscribers, he ended his article with this somewhat startling paragraph.

"There have been over 1,930 people who have joined the Pomona Methodist Church since its organization in 1875. Of these, over 1,000 have moved to other locations and about 200 have died."

Guernsey's fern issue

By GUSTAV DETJEN, JR.

The Guernsey Post Office has now completed five years as an independent Postal Administration, during which time there have been two sets of definitive stamps released and seventeen special issues, as well as various booklets, air letters, etc.

For its first stamp issue of 1975, the Guernsey Post Office will release an issue of four featuring special ferns indigenous to the Bailiwick.

The attractive set has been printed by Helio Courvoisier S.A. of Switzerland.

The respective values are 3 1-3p, 4:, 8: and 10p.

ALBUM BEAT

By E. J. Jones

Some groups are average, mediocre; some are great. I have one that claims to be the Average White Band and is GREAT! Its newest LP, the second as a group (Average White Band), Atlantic, SD7308) proves that this group may have the word average in its name, but you can bet the music is well above the norm.

The Average White Band describes itself this way, "What we play is music and what we want to keep playing is music; we're not just individual musicians or a group of people joining together just to jam. We're a strong team with a team spirit. It's a kind of a coincidence that we happen to be from Scotland". AWB writes most of it's ow material. This accounts for members wanting the best sound possible — they're proud!

That in a nushell sums up what the Average White Band is all about. There is a group of professional musicians joining their talents in a unique way. Their music is tight in arrangement, and precise in all its detail. Occasionally viewed as a "white soul band" influenced by John Coltrane, James Brown, All Green and Stevie Wonder, they feel that these styles form only part of their sound. The main emphasis in their music reflects the constantly changing music scene. The album holds all sorts of music, including New Orleans jazz, bayou country blues, rhythm and blues, soul, and some refreshingly low keyed rock. Both sides of the album are good, but the second wins by a nose as the better of the two. It's almost as if the group saved the best for last.

The first two cuts on side one "You Got It" and "Got the Love" are rhythm and blues soul in the finest sense. A pleasure to listen to—a smooth blending of music and vocals featuring the two lead vocalists of the group, Alan Gorrie, and Hamish Stuart. Gorrie and Stuart are also responsible for some of the AWB's writing. "Pick Up the Pieces," is break time on side two. It's all instrumental except for a little background vocalizing towards the end of the cut. A real toe-tapper emphasizing what's already been said—this group is as versatile as they come and string tight in the sound it puts out. Side one is rounded out by "Person to Person" and "Work to Do". The last cut features a guitar solo by Onnie McIntyre which is great and lead vocals by both Gorrie and Stuart which accent each other in just the right style. But again it's the whole group which makes the music happen and that is the AWB's strongest attribute.

Side two is a continuation of side one with excellent sound in each number. Starting with the haunting and soulful "Nothing You Can Do"; the intensely romantic "Just Wanna Love You Tonight"; "Keepin It to Myself" continues with Alan Gorrie showing his prowess for soul vocalizing at its best; back to more rhythm and blues rock, light and fanciful "I Just Can't Give You Up" with lead vocal by Stuart. Side two ends with the longest cut on the Album. "There's Always Someone Waiting", excellent throughout its five minutes plus.

Forsaking glitter and glamour rock and making hard work pay off the Average White Band is well above average. Striving for new standards of excellence is its goal. The music shows the hard work that went into this album. The first cut on side one and the first four on side two all hold the potential of being individual hits.

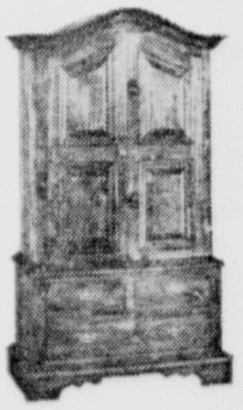

Watch for this album, it's excellent, it's new, the music is exciting and done to perfection. Album Beat rates the Average White Band number 8 on the musical scale of 10 and that's pretty close to the top. Watch this group, it's going places!!

Mike Beck and Cliff Chandler, members of t he California Highway Patrol, repair a battery-powered racing car.

Ula Smith, a Santa Claus volunteer, and Peggy Bunn, president of the Altrusa Club, sort out a pile of toys for repair.

Santa's workshop buzzing

Story by L. T. Rogers

Yes Virginia there is a Santa Claus. But in Pomona, Santa isn't necessarily a roly-poly who puffs on a pipe, slides up and down chimneys and sports a herd of reindeer.

Rather Santa wears many hats and comes from many walks of life. Santa is a retired grandmother who loves children, a highway patrolman who trades his ticket book for a wrench and paint brush, a housewife who sews and stuffs Christmas stockings, a lawn bowler whose "strike" is a free gift and a "quick draw" artist whose target is toys.

These are just a few of the people who make up Santa Claus, Inc., a nonprofit group that provides hundreds of children with toys each Christmas.

They conduct toy drives, snatch old bikes and wagons from discarded trash, recycle dolls, gather and repair donated toys and stock shelves.

Their activities center in a vacant store on the Pomona Mall. A group of women may be found in one area fixing a doll crib while several men are busy in another room putting a seat on a tricycle or seeking a wheel for a bicycle.

A visiter walking into the building for the first time may wonder if this hodgepodge of assorted toys can ever be ready for Christmas distribution.

But gradually, the bikes, trikes and wagons all appear with fresh coats of paint. And hundreds of freshly scrubbed dolls, all sporting new clothes, are lined in long rows of shelves.

And then a week before Christmas, parents are invited to the workshop to select toys for their children.

A mother carrying a baby on her hip can be seen selecting a doll buggy, doll and stuffed animal. A father carefully studies the many items available before he decides on a monopoly set, record player and wagon.

Wheeled toys such as bicycles, tricycles, doll buggies and wagons are the items most requested. But due to a shortage of these, they are limited to one to a family. And these families with the most children get priority.

More than 3,000 toys were given out last Christmas to some 300 families. Because of increasing unemployment and rising consumer costs, officials are expecting to serve 1,500 children in 500 families this year.

The Pomona workshop serves the communities of Pomona, Walnut, La Verne and San Dimas. Families are referred by the local Salvation Army based on their needs.

Much credit for making Christmas a merry time for these hundreds of children must be given to Ella Bockover, 67, who has 11 children, 43 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

She can be found at the workshop almost daily all during the year. She receives no pay, with her only compensation that of making children happy.

Assisting in the volunteer work are her three daughters, Ula Smith, Barbara Jelford and Helen Gibson.

"Mother likes to take care of children who need help," declared Mrs. Smith. "And she finds it so rewarding that people can be made so happy with so little."

Mrs. Bockover, who served as a lookout for forest fires in San Jacinto and Hemet before a back injury forced her retirement in 1958, worked with the Santa Claus, Inc., in Ontario before joining the Pomona program in 1967.

Other organizations which supply volunteers include the California Highway Patrol's 555 Club, the Pomona Junior Women's Club, Altrusa Club, Diamond Bar Jaycees, Diamond Bar Junior Women's Club, Senior Citizens Touring Club, Pomona Lawn Bowlers, and various PTAs.

Members of the three women's organizations have been involved in washing dolls and making doll clothes and sewing and filling Christmas stockings. In addition, the Pomona Junior Women's Club collected toys as admission to a magic show and raised $300 from a fund-raising event.

Highway Patrolmen and Jaycees have held workshops to repair wheeled toys, record players and hobby horses. The senior citizens are dressing dolls, and the lawn bowlers will donate toys at their annual "bowloff."

Toys for the workshop come from many directions. Some are donated by toy firms and at school drives, from families cleaning out their garages, and from trash set out for collection.

One of the largest toy drives last year resulted from a fast gun tournament held in Ontario by Bob Munden, reputed to have the "world's fastest gun."

Those competing in the contest were asked to donate a $5 toy as an entry fee. In addition, spectators were also asked to give toys.

"We filled up a 23-foot, flatbed trailer from the one-day event," said Munden.

The tournament will be held again this year at the Pomona Valley Datsun dealership at 1375 E. Holt Ave., Pomona.

And toys will also be received from the U. S. Marines annual "Toys for Tot" program. The Marines will be providing both new and fixable toys.

In a recent invertory, Mrs. Bockover estimated the workshop this year would distribute 35 to 40 bikes, 30 trikes, 14 doll buggies, 25 wagons, 10 doll cribs and 500 dolls plus numerous small toys.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackman stand behind two plaques depicting the Last Supper.

'Christian spirit' helps them grow

The greeting card case, creches, and pictures.

"I want to thank God and the Christian community for our success."

Mrs. Mike Jackman, manager of The Grotto, a religious art and gift shop in Pomona, has a special occasion for speaking these words this week. Mr. and Mrs. Jackman are celebrating the fifth anniversary of their shop, which is at 1681 Indian Hill Blvd. near the intersection of San Bernardino Avenue.

The anniversary, coming during National Bible Week, will be marked with a free drawing in which the winner will select the Bible of his choice as the prize.

The charismatic renewal, a revival of religious dedication, has considerably affected the trade at The Grotto, according to Mrs. Jackman, who points out that the practice of home liturgy and personal prayer have made people more aware of the Bible.

More than ever before, persons entering the shop show "a definite witness to Christ," Mrs. Jackman said.

People caught up in charismatic renewal show a "special enthusiasm," she added, and this enthusiasm has brought them in growing numbers into the shop.

"People are frightened, but they're also seeking the answers," she said.

The movie, "The Exorcist," and books such as Hal Lindsey's "The Late Great Planet Earth" have made the public more generally aware of religious issues, Mrs. Jackman believes. Customers at the shop will find Lindsey's book on sale there, as well as "Good News for Modern Man," the New Testament in modern English, The Six Version Parallel New Testament, and numerous works about Christianity.

The shop also trades in greeting cards, records, crucifixes, creches, banners ("Youth is not made for pleasure, but for heroism." — Paul Claudel), bumper stickers ("God Is Love!"), Della Robbia wreaths, plaques, and pendants.

"This shop reflects our personal philosophy," Mrs. Jackman stressed, noting that, as the parents of three children, she and her husband are especially aware of religious programs and literature for children.

They sell at The Grotto the colorfully illustrated version of the Bible for children, The Children's Living Bible, a volume of almost 1,500 pages in modern English with maps.

The Grotto's children's department also includes books for pre-school children, large-print books for learning readers, and books for teenagers. In most cases the books deal with some aspect of the Bible or Christianity.

The Grotto is open six days a week, Monday through Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It's a pippin

NEW YORK (UPI)— At its second birthday at the Imperial Theater in New York City last month, the musical, "Pippin" had rung up a net profit of $2.1 million, over and above the $500,000 production cost.

It's an amazing record for a show that almost didn't make it to opening night in 1972.

Finding right move can be mind splitting

By SHELLY LYMAN

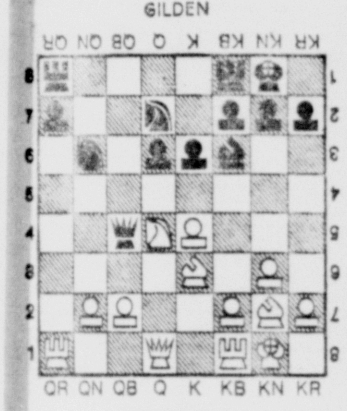

Chess

A chess game is a series of crises. Defensive and offensive tasks alternate and combine. And since "defense" and "offense" in chess are broad categories which range from the simple and unspectacular to the difficult and hair-raising, it is difficult to formulate simple rules.

The too offensive-minded fall prey to their own adventurism. The too timid languish and soon expire. But even when one's general feel for a position is correct, finding the right move can be mind-splitting. And while when the appropriate move is discovered, the satisfaction is immense, on the next move the same dilemma is posed again.

(Diagram 1)

BLACK

RESHEVSKY

Correct is 1.P-QN3!

One guiding principle is that you do what you can when you can. However limited your immediate resources, you stay alert and contrive to produce situations in which you can do more. But do the most at all times and the pressure on your opponent may be unbearable.

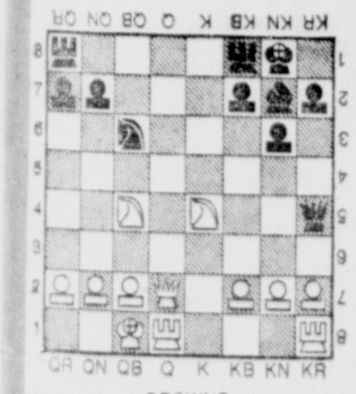

But Reshevsky had a move which sent the queen stumbling back to his first rank. After white's 1. P-QN3!, Gilden had to play 1 . . . Q-B1! What an improvement in the white position as a result of white's "simple" move!

Any other tries for Gilden (other than 1 . . . Q-B1) would have lost material. If 1 . . . Q-B2, then 2. P-K5, PxP; 3. N-N5 and 4. BxR. Or if 1 . . . Q-N5, then 2. P-K5, PxP; 3. N-B6 and whether the queen goes to N5 or B6, black will lose material. These variations are fun, if a bit difficult. Work them out yourself.

In our first position Gilden (black) seems to be pressing Reshevsky (white) on the queen's wing. If white stays passive in that area, black may bring his king's rook to the queen's bishop file and with the threat of 1 . . . BxN, BxB; and 2. QxP, put white under severe pressure.

Black mates! How?

In the same tournament (the 1974 U.S. Open), grandmaster Walter Browne, the eventual winner, found himself under pressure in the position given in our second diagram. Rogoff (black) is threatening an immediate 1 . . . QxN, and . . . B-R3 is a danger on every move! Browne's solution was to mate the alert "blocking" move 1. P-KB4, which defends both threats by blocking both of them.

Our last position is an aesthetic delight for those who like economical checkmates. How does black "cruelly" force a checkmate in 5 moves?

You should experiment with this poition until you find the answer. The solution, in any case, is 1 . . N-Q7 check; 2. K-N2 (else Q-R7 forces mate), Q-N5 check; 3. K-R1, Q-B6 check; 4. Q-N2, Q-R4 check; 5. Q-R2, Qx-Qmate.

Here black, if not alert, might have missed the mate and instead agreed to draw by perpetual check.
